FARM BOARD'S HEAD MAKES NO MOVE TO RESIGN

Wichita Publishers, Aroused by "Hog in Trough" Figure of Speech Used in Reference to Kansas, Are Invited by Legge to Visit a Warmer Clime When They Ask Relief Agency Chairman to Step Down.

AMARILLO, Tex., July 12—(AP)—Kansas was still "the biggest hog lying in the trough" today as far as Alexander Legge, chairman of the federal farm board, was concerned.

And Legge was still chairman of the farm board.

The figure of speech used by the chairman in his controversy with Gov. Clyde M. Reed of Kansas over the board's proposal that wheat growers limit acreage, yesterday aroused the ire of Max M. and Louis Levand, publishers of the Wichita, Kas, Beacon.

The Levand brothers called upon Mr. Legge to retract what they said was an insult to 1,850,000 Kansans and then resign.

Legge Issues Reply.

All of which brought forth from Mr Legge the statement:

"You may present my compliments to Max and Louie and please tell them to go to hell."

Governor Reed appeared at Kansas points jointly with Chairman Legge and Secretary of Agriculture Hyde, during their present tour of wheat states in the interests of limited production.

His outspoken opposition to their views, Chairman Legge accused, was due to political reasons.

TO TRY BOEING CASE ON MERITS

Demurrer of State Is Overruled by Judge Chappell.

Action of the Boeing Air Transport, Inc., to prevent the state collecting the 4-cent gasoline tax on fuel used in planes in interestate commerce will be fully aired in court. District Jupdge Chappell Saturday morning overruled the state's demurrer to the air firm's petition.

Whether the Boeing company has a case is a close question, the judge stated after his ruling. Since the suit is expected to go to the Supreme court, he expressed the belief that it would be better for him to hear testimony on the matter and send the whole case up at once.

The air corporation claimed the state was acting illegally in attempting to collect the gas tax on fuel which it uses in its planes employed exclusively in interstate commerce, and it asked an injunction to prevent state officials collecting the tax on such portion. The temporary injunction which has been in effect will be continued. Under its terms, the tax is paid into the clerk of the District court here until the matter is settled.

John C. Hagensick Retires After Thirty-Six Years In Postoffice

"I guess it'll be pretty lonesome," declared John C. Hagensick Saturday, retiring as foreman of the registry section of the local postoffice, a position which he has held for thirty-six years. He became 70 years old July 1 and will receive a $100 per month pension.

"Chris"—they call him that—isn't sure about his future, but after a good rest and some visiting with his sons, he is going over to Germany.

Born at Gainsbillo, Ia., in 1860, he arrived in Lincoln on August 20, 1877. On July 1, 1894, he was employed by John H. Harley, postmaster, to take charge of the registry work. One man handled the job then, but six are required now.

Fellow employes presented Chris with a handsome Coxwell chair and ottoman Saturday. Postmaster Trev E. Gillaspie making the presentation.

He commented on the changes that have taken place since Mr. Hagensick first began work in the post office. In 1894, the annual receipts were only $80,000. In 1929 they were $956,940 16 The force has grown from sixteen carriers and twenty-one clerks to seventy-three carriers and ninety-three clerks. The old postoffice was located where the city hall now stands.

Mr and Mrs. Hagensick live at 918 South Tenth street, and intend to continue to make Lincoln their home. They have two sons living

FIFTEEN MILLION BUSHEL GAIN IN WHEAT IS SEEN

A. E. Anderson Predicts 68,495,000 Yield In Nebraska.

SAYS CORN NEEDS RAIN WITHIN WEEK

Estimates Crop Three Million Greater Than Last Year.

With early harvest reports beginning to come in, A. E. Anderson, state and federal crop statistician, estimated Saturday that the total yield for the state would pproximate 68,495,000 bushels, including both spring and winter wheat, as compared with 53,664,000 bushels last year and a five year average of 54,907,000 bushels.

The winter wheat yield is estimated at 65,675,000 bushels, and spring wheat at 2,820,000 bushels. The total acreage of winter wheat to be harvested is 3,550,000 acres as compared with 3,354,000 last year. The spring wheat acreage dropped this year from 194,000 to 188,000 acres.

Larger Corn Yield.

An above average yield of corn is also expected by Anderson. His prediction, howeved, is based on the condition of the fields on July 1. He said Saturday, that while he was of the opinion that the corn has not yet suffered any serious damage from the week of exceptionally hot dry weather, a prolonged continuance of it would reduce the final yield. Rains within the next week, however, will restore the fields to their July 1 condition, he believes.

Basing his predictions on the July 1 condition, he estimates a total yield for the state of 340,110,000 bushels as compared with 237,744,000 bushels last year and a five year average of 223,580,000 bushels. The 9,235,000 acres of corn planted this year is the second largest in the history of the state.

The oats yield this year will fall 4,000,000 bushels short of last year's crop with a total estimated yield of 82,225,000 bushels A marked increase in the rye acreage this year will result in a production of 5,328,000 bushels as compared with 3,694,000 bushels last year. The forecast

INFORMATION IS DUE THE VOTER

Weaver Says Primary Candidates Should Be Designated.

Citizen Entitled to Know Which Is Which On Ballot.

That the voters of Nebraska are entitled to be given information upon the ballot that will enable them to know what candidates they are voting for is the view taken by Governor Weaver regarding the mixup over duplicated names for several offices, including United States senator, for which office two men named George W. Norris have filed.

The governor expressed himself to that effect Saturday forenoon in his first interview with newspaper men, following his return Friday night from the two weeks' vacation trip taken by himself and members of his family to Salt Lake City for the national governors' conference and sightseeing tours to the grand canyon of the Colorado and through Yellowstone park.

"In regard to all of these names which are similar to each other, there should be something on the ballot to make it clear to the voter who the different candidates are, so that he may mark his ticket intelligently," Mr. Weaver said.

Would Simplify Counting.

"In the case of the two Norrises, for instance, I think it should be stated after the name of Senator Norris that he is the present senator from Nebraska, if the primary law does not expressly prohibit this being done. That would make it easy for voters to distinguish between the two men, which otherwise they could hardly do. It would also simplify matters for primary election boards in counting the votes

"The same practice should be followed in the cases of State Auditor Johnson, Secretary of State Marsh, and any others who have men with identical surnames running against them.

"It was never contemplated in the enactment of the primary law that names should be duplicated on the ballot in such a way that voters could not identify the candidates they wish to support. To permit this is to make the law a farce.

"While the candidates themselves are entitled to consideration, it is the rights of the voters that are paramount in the matter I think the secretary of state should, and no doubt he will, do whatever lies in his power to clarify the situation. Any insufficiency now existing in

FARM BOARD WHEAT SOLD TO MILLERS

About Two Million Bushels Disposed Of At Kansas City.

SOLD AT CURRENT MARKET PRICES

Move Reported Necessary Because of Lack Of Storage Space.

TOPEKA, July 12—(AP)—Declaring his belief that wheat sold to Kansas City millers "broke the market today," Gov. Clyde M. Rede, in a telegram to Chairman Legge of the federal farm board, protested "against this unwise and unsound policy" and asked that "it be stopped at once."

Governor Reed also asked of the farm board chairman "unqualified assurance as to what the future policy of the farm board will be with regard to its holdings of wheat, which in your addresses in Kansas you repeatedly stated would not be sold in competition with the new crop now coming in."

KANSAS CITY, July 12—(AP)—Officials of the Grain Stabilization corporation, a federal farm board agency, announced today that moderate quantities of wheat stored with Kansas City mills under a special plan when the farm board was purchasing wheat in its campaign to stabilize the price for last year's crop had been disposed of this week at current market prices.

The wheat, stored under what was termed the "A" and "B" plan, was said to comprise only a small portion of the government owned wheat. The sales were reported in the neighborhood of 2,000,000 bushels. The Kansas Flour Mills announced the purchase of 350,000 bushels yesterday at around 82 cents a bushel.

Storage Space Needed.

Sale of wheat was reported to have been necessary because of lack of storage space at the disposal of the farm board. The grain was purchased by the stabilization corporation last season and through an arrangement with millers was placed in their elevators with the understanding it would be moved

JONES SETS NEW COURSE RECORD AT INTERLACHEN

Bobby Around With 68 In Spite Tough Luck or Number Eighteen.

SMITH FAILS KEEP PACE WITH BOBBY

Armour, Cooper, Lacey, "Mac" Smith Fail Keep Up Pace.

TWO OVER PAR.

Bobby Jones was 2 over par on the first nine holes of his afternoon round at Interlachen. He had 250 for the 63 holes.

INTERLACHEN CLUB, MINNEAPOLIS, July 12—Bobby Jones, as a result of a record breaking 68 for his third round and a 54 hole total of 212 strokes, started his second and final round today with a substantial lead in the defense of his national open golf championship

Harry Cooper, Chicago pro, was second to Bobby at the end of the first 54 holes with a 217. Horton Smith and Johnny Golden, of Darien, Conn., were tied for third with 218s.

After going out in par, Horton Smith slipped badly on the home nine and with the failure of his putter went his hopes to take the open title from the rampaging Bobby Jones.

He was two over par coming up to the seventeenth, due to his erratic work on the greens. There his wood clubs failed him for the first time and he sliced his drive into the rough short of the green. He wound up with a five on a par three hole, and then picked off a par four on the eighteenth to finish with a 76.

His round of four over par leaves him six strokes behind Jones, and with only eighteen holes to go, and the Georgian "hot," virtually out of the running.

Takes Field Apart.

INTERLACHEN CLUB, MINNEAPOLIS, July 12 (I. N. S.)— Bobby Jones, holder of tko 1930 major championships and seeking another here, took the national open golf title field apart in the third round this morning and, with a new course record of 33-35—68, not only appeared to kill off the championship in cold blood but performed the autopsy, as well.

His record score, one of the greatest he ever attained in an American title event, gave him a three-round total of 212 and made it necessary for Horton Smith, the overnight leader by two strokes, to shoot no worse than a 70, to finish the round in a tie. The rest of them were nowhere.

They probably never were intended to be anywhere, for Jones' exhibition today almost savored of pre-arrangement, so marvelous was his control. Except for a weak finish, he would have the course afire with a 66 for he needed only pars on the seventeenth and eighteenth to achieve this figure.

Pars and Birdies.

But, where previously he had reeled off ten pars and six birdies to be six under par for 16 holes, he could get no better than a 4 at the 262-yard seventeenth, where he pushed his tee shot into the heavy grass at the side of a trop and his out left him a 20 foot putt for a par, which he didn't get.

Again at the eighteenth, he sliced into a grove of trees and deep rough and had to sacrifice distance for safety with his out. This got him home in three and when his approach putt edged the cup, he got a buzzard 5.

Even the haphazarded finish

EDITORS REFUSE LET BUCK QUIT

Continues Until End of Year With An Assistant.

OMAHA, July 12—(AP)—Directors of the Nebraska Press association today refused to accept the proffered resignation of Ole Buck, Lincoln for twelve years feild manager of the organization

Buck had presented his resignation in order to devote all his time to editing the United States Publisher, whose editorial offices are being moved from Springfield, Ill., to Lincoln.

The directors, meeting here as Nebraska and Southwestern Iowa editors completed their annual midsummer outing, refused to let Buck go, telling him that they had no successor in view He agreed to continue the work for the remainder of the year with the aid of an assistant.

At a breakfast here this morning in their honor, the outstate editors were told by Walter L Pierpoint, chairman of the governing board of the chamber of commerce publicity bureau, that the "country press represents the personality of its community"

"It has been said that the history of the American people is a history of the small towns," he said.

COOLER SUNDAY IS PREDICTION

Bureau Promises Relief From Eight-day Heat Wave.

Light Showers Bring Slight Relief Saturday.

Weather bureau officials had their first good news in a week today when they predicted cooler weather for Lincoln and Nebraska Sunday. An Associated Press dispatch from Kansas City added a further hope to the local announcement, forecasting temperatures in the 80's for Nebraska, Missouri and Kansas.

Light showers received in southeastern Nebraska gave slight relief Saturday morning, cutting about 10 degrees off reports from most cities. Lincoln had 90 at 12:30 this noon in comparison with the invariable 99 and 100 at that hour for the past week.

Burlington officials had reports of light showers at Ashland, Fremont, Omaha, South Bend, Louisville, Oreapolis, and Plattsmouth.

Nearly a quarterinch precipitation was also reported to the Lincoln Telephone and Telegraph ocmpany from North Platte, Nebraska City and Auburn.

The local weather bureau was informed of a .24 inch rainfall at Valentine, and .46 at Alliance.

Florence Dailey, 1437 S street, a freshman at the University of Nebraska, was Friday's only heat victim here. She collapsed in a classroom. She was taken to her home where she was attended by Dr A. H. Webb Her condition is not serious.

Causes Six Deaths.

Friday's intense heat resulted in six deaths in Nebraska. The victims were:

J. F. Egger, 79, Hickman, resident of Lancaster county for over 50 years and a former member of the state legislature.

John R. Ringwalt, 73, Omaha, suicide on account of heat. Prom-

STREETCAR GOES THROUGH BRIDGE AND INTO RIVER

At Least Sixty Persons Perish When Trolley Falls Into Stream Separating Capital From Town of Avellaneda—Due to Heavy Fog, Motorman Apparently Failed to See One Section of Crossing Structure Was Open.

BUENOS AIRES, July 12—(AP)—At least sixty persons lost their lives today when a streetcar fell into a small river called "Riacho," which separates Buenos Aires from the town of Avellaneda.

One section of a cantilever bridge over which the streetcar was passing was raised at the time of the accident. It was believed the motorman, owing to a heavy fog, failed to see the bridge was open, and ran the car into the river.

The passengers were trapped within the car and only three, who were seated on the rear platform, escaped.

Most Victims Laborers.

The accident took place at 6:15 a. m, and most of the victims were laborers on the way to work. Firemen and police were organized into rescue crews and removed the bodies from the wreckage. The car was covered by water, only the trolley pole standing out.

All manufacturers within the district allowed employes to return to their homes to relieve the anxiety of their families, since the names of the victims were not immediately known.

Herman G. Miller Resident of County For 49 Years, Dies

Herman G. Miller, 84, resident of Lancaster county since 1881, died at 11:05 o'clock Saturday morning at a local hospital. He was born in Germany and came to Nebraska forty-nine years ago. He lived on a farm north and west of Emerald for many years.

He is survived by a son, Herman B. of Lincoln; four daughters, Mrs. Will Jiles, and Mrs. Abbe Burgess of Lincoln, Mrs. A. B. Arnold of Memphis, and Mrs. J. W. Mughn of Duncan.

Funeral services will be held at 1:30 o'clock Monday afternoon at Henry Brown's chapel with further services at 2 o'clock at the German Lutheran church, two miles west and three miles north of Emerald. Interment will be in the church cemetery.

FLYING INSTRUCTOR KILLED.

SAN JUAN, Porto Rico, July 12—(AP)—Robert Goode, jr., of Morristown, N. J., a flying instructor, died today of injuries received in a crash yesterday which cost the life of student pilot, Fernando Alvarez. Goode, who last autumn eloped with a Short Hills school girl and flew to Porto Rico recently, had returned from a trip to the United States to continue in the aviation school here.

NEW PAVEMENT TO CITY OPENED

Half-Mile Stretch North of Veterans' Hospital Carrying Traffic.

Motorists using the state highway into Lincoln from the east were agreeably surprised Saturday to find the new half-mile stretch of pavement north of the U. S. veterans' hospital open for traffic, thus removing the detour north of there which has been in use since last winter. For the first time, cars are now going under the Missouri Pacific railroad subway which eliminates the old grade crossing.

While the base and asphalt surfacing of the highway are finished and hardened, work is still in progress on the shoulder bordering each side of it. This will soon be done, however. It was thought best to open up the road without waiting for 100 per cent completion. This is one of the main highways entering Lincoln. Several thousand motorists use it each day coming into the city or going out

The old curve to the south is no longer needed, except that part of it which joins another highway at the northwest corner of the veterans' hospital grounds.

MIDNIGHT LIMIT MINIATURE GOLF

Other Regulations Made Under Proposed City Ordinance.

Closing time for miniature golf courses, tentatively announced as 11 o'clock, has been changed to midnight, owners were told at a conference in Mayor Don L. Love's office Saturday morning. A draft of the new ordinance to be given first reading Monday was read and discussed, the course operators accepting its provisions with expressions regarding their fairness.

George A. Armburster, E. W. Truman and F. E. P. Harris were the owners present.

The law will prohibit establishment of courses within 300 feet of the main entrance of any church, and will require conduct of the places "in a quiet and orderly manner." Flood lights must be so adjusted so as not to throw their rays upon property not part of the course.

Occupation tax for the places has been fixed at $45 per year and license fee $5. Use of premiums and prizes is prohibited on the courses.

The question of loud speakers operated in conjunction with the courses is not mentioned in the ordinance, but City Attorney F. A. Peterson said that they could be treated as nuisances if necessary.

Alliance Girl Is Killed By Lightning

ALLIANCE, Neb., July 12—(AP)—Karla Laursen, 13, daughter of Marius Laursen, a farmer residing east of here, was killed last night when struck by lightning as she was herding cattle. The girl was rushed to the hospital but it was found that death was apparently instantaneous. She was burned about the face and chest.

As Rogers Sees it

BEVERLY HILLS, July 12—The Lindberghs have always known they would call the baby Charles Augustus. But what has held them up all this time was whether to use the jr. on the end or not. So they finally decided to use it. The picture shows him sleeping with his eyes shut and his mouth open, so he don't take after his father. He slept with his eyes open and his mouth shut. Was with Flo Ziegfeld this morning. The present show in our old Follies theater, the New Amsterdam, was raided by the police yesterday. Taken to Denver—Neal Bullard, 20, federal prisoner, was taken to Denver Friday by Marshal McClung where he will face an auto theft charge. Bullard was removed from the county jail.

Files Quarterly Report— Sheriff Hensel filed his second quarterly report with the county clerk Saturday. It shows earned fees amounted to $534.63. Collected fees totaled $928.02. Distress warrants collected amounted to $347.05.

Divorce Granted—Hattie McConnell got a divorce from Edward McConnell in a decree signed Saturday by District Judge Chappell. She was also given custody of two children. The divorce was granted for non-support and cruelty.

Asks Divorce—Isabella Smith filed suit in District court Saturday asking a divorce from Clinton E. Smith. She alleges cruelty and asks restoration of her maiden name, Sanderson. The couple married November 16, 1929 at Topeka, Kas.

Treasurer's Report—May 31 found $1,329,384.30 in the city treasury, as compared with the $1,382,705.34 balance at the biginning of the month. Credits were $156,303.84 and disbursements $209,614.68. Securities on hand for various special assessment projects and municipal funds totaled $226,504.28.

Urges Water Conservation— Although the city faces little danger of water shortage now, according to Commissioner William Schroeder, citizens are asked to continue to be careful in their use of water until cooler weather sets in. New records in water consumption were set during the week, he stated. Nearly fifteen million gallons a day were used. The average daily consumption throughout the year is slightly more than seven million gallons.

Mid-Continent Meeting — Forty heads of departments and sales representatives of the Mid-Continent Petroleum corporation attended a dinner and get-together at the Cornhusker hotel Friday night. Carl Weil welcomed the group to the city. Short talks were given by L. V. Surtees, division manager; E. E. Brayfield, operating manager, and J. J. Dowling, sales manager. This was the first general meeting of the western division, an entirely new division whose offices have recently been established here.

Mental Tests of Prisoners—Dr. Charles Fordyce and his university class in mental measurements gave tests to the inmates at the state reformatory Friday afternoon. Seventy-five men were tested, both in groups and individually. Dr. Fordyce has been conducting tests in the reformatory every two months for seven years, with the results of his work being used in consideration of applications for parole. The mental level of the prisoners is indicated by the fact that their average school achievement is that of the fifth grade student, with many unable to read from a first grade reader. Ages range from 16 to 30 years, with the average 22.

FARM BOARD WHEAT SOLD TO MILLERS

out by July 10. The millers were given the privilege of buying the grain and exercised this option.

Mills that did not take over government owned wheat in their bins were given shipping directions and the grain was moved out.

Local officials of the Grain Stabilization corporation said that other wheat owned by the corporation, which is in contracted storage, was not being sold.

Obligated To Sell.

Grain men at first were inclined to interpret the action as a reversal of the policy on the part of the farm board, which has announced several times recently that the 1929 wheat held by the government would not be sold in competition with the new crop.

Spokesmen for the corporation pointed out that the board already was under obligation to sell wheat stored under the "A" and "B" plan by a certain date or else move it out.

the Texas panhandle, Secretary Hyde of the department of agriculture and Chairman Legge of the federal farm board today brought their acreage reduction proposal to Oklahoma. Today's meeting here was the last of six in five states they visited.

Throughout the campaign the secretary and farm board chairman have urged farmers to organize in order to better their own situation.

Sees Tariff Benefit.

Chairman Legge has expressed the theory that curtailment of production to domestic demands would enable the growers to obtain the full benefit of the 42 cent wheat tariff provided by this country, but he has stated such a drastic reduction was not contemplated immediately.

An audience of 1,500 at Amarillo, Tex., yesterday heard Secretary Hyde expound his doctrine that it is profits in net bushels of production that pays the debts, and raises the standards of living. Chairman Legge said he believed the present grain marketing system should not be destroyed and that organization of farmers would remove the need for grain futures trading.

FUNERAL AT SHUBERT.

STELLA, Neb., July 12—Funeral services will be held by Elder Sapp of Brownville at the Christian church in Shubert Saturday afternoon for Mrs. Fred Kenton, who died Thursday morning at a Falls City hospital. FIVE YEARS FOR ROSS JENNINGS

Auburn Youth Sentenced To Reformatory On Assault Charge.

TECUMSEH, Neb., July 12—(AP)—Ross Jennings, 16 year old Auburn youth, today was sentenced to five years in the state reformatory by District Judge P. H. Broady. A motion for a new trial was denied by the court. A jury convicted the youth several days ago on charges of assault on an Auburn girl, on October 23 last. At a previous trial here in May, the jury was unable to reach a verdict. The case was brought here on a change of venue. Jennings was the last of three Auburn boys to be convicted on the charge.

Attorneys said Jennings' case also be appealed.

for barley is 21,540,000 bushels as compared with 18,892,000 bushels last year, and double the average yield over the five year period.

Gain In Potato Crop.

The potato acreage is the same as last year's but the production is expected to be 9,200,000 bushels as compared with 8,924,000 bushels last year and a five year average of 7,907,000 bushels.

The excellent condition of tame hay crops forecasts a production of 4,189,000 tons as compared with 3,572,000 tons last year. The wild hay estimate is 3,048,000 tons as compared with 2,652,000 tons last year. A flax yield of 216,000 bushels is expected as compared with 129,000 bushels in 1929.

The sugar beet acreage was reduced 10,000 acres this year with the result that a yield of only 984,000 tons is expected as compared with last year's production of 1,054,000 tons.

Commenting on the winter wheat crop, Anderson said that, while the splendid early start was set back by the Hessian fly, lack of sufficient nitrates in the soil, and the Green bug, highly favorable weather in June more than made up for the loss. Plenty of moisture and cool weather enabled the crop to ripen under the best possible conditions.

Comparison of nationwide yields of the leading crops for 1929 and 1930 was included in Anderson's report as follows:

Winter wheat, 557,719,000 bushels this year, 577,784,000 bushels last year; corn, 2,802,442,000 bushels this year, 2,614,307,000 bushels last year; spring wheat, not durum, 192,680,000 bushels this year, 175,626,000 bushels last year; oats, 1,329,407,000 bushels this year, 1,243,574,000 bushels last year; barley, 331,925,000 bushels this year, 303,552,000 bushels last year; rye, 47,858,000 bushels this year, 40,533,000 bushels last year; potatoes, 398,419,000 bushels this year, 359,796,000 bushels last year; tame hay, 85,431,000 tons this year, 101,964,000 tons last year.

Drove Over 2,500 Miles.

Going to Salt Lake City and returning via Yellowstone park to Lincoln, Governor Weaver drove 2,550 miles on the round trip. He was accompanied by Mrs. Weaver and their two sons, Arthur, jr., and Philip.

The Weavers traveled another 600 or 700 miles on a tour of the state and national parks in Utah, which extended into Arizona and gave them a glimpse of the celebrated Grand Canyon. This journey was made in busses furnished by the state of Utah for the visiting governors and their families.

The Yellowstone region was visited after the party had returned to Salt Lake City and the governors dispersed. Mr. and Mrs. Weaver had been through the park 22 years ago in a horse drawn bus, then furnishing the only means of transportation for tourists.

After spending one night at Cody, Wyo., outside the east entrance of the park, and another at Douglas, Wyo., the governor and his wife and children made a short stop in the Nebraska state park near Chadron and from there drove to Merriman, where they were overnight guests of State Senator and Mrs. Arthur Bowring at their ranch home. On Friday, they made the rest of the trip back to Lincoln, reaching here at midnight.

Two tire punctures constituted the only car trouble encountered by the Weavers on their entire trip.

The governor had no comment for publication regarding the Supreme court decision given in his absence, sustaining appropriations of $495,500 by the legislature which he vetoed.

"I heard of Charley Pool's death while at Douglas, Wyo.," he said. "The county clerk there told me about it. He was personally acquainted with Mr. Pool."

Driver Booked After Chase Which Ends At Fair Grounds

Hamilton Edwards, 21, was booked on a charge of speeding and reckless driving, after his arrest Saturday morning following a chase by Motor Officer Schappaugh. Edwards will appear in Municipal court Monday morning.

The officer took after a large sedan near Sixteenth and Vine streets, but the police motorcycle was unable, so he says, to overtake the car, as it dashed across the numerous railroad tracks. Careening around the corner approaching Holdrege street, the car took the left side of the street, forcing a small coupe over the curb. The driver of the coupe backed his machine, undamaged, into the street, and left without disclosing his identity.

Officer Schappaugh pursued the machine into the fair grounds to the automobile building, but the driver was not to be found. The identity of the driver was learned by checking the number.

JOHN DOE TO BE CHARGED NO MORE

OMAHA, July 12—(AP)—Assistant United States District Attorney Edson Smith announced today discontinuance of the practice of issuing John Doe and Mary Roe warrants for federal offenders in cases where the identity of the offender is not definitely known.

"Hereafter when the identity of the offender is not known we will not indict," he said. Smith explained that persons for whom such warrants are issued, almost always escape, because of the difficulty encountered by officers in finding them only through their descriptions.

NORRIS OFFERS RESERVATION TO LONDON TREATY

Senate Ponders Hoover's Refusal To Submit Documents.

NEBRASKAN'S MOVE DIVIDES OPINION

Johnson Highly Incensed Over President's Action.

WASHINGTON, July 12—(AP)—At the end of its first week of debate on the London naval treaty, the senate today studied the situation created by President Hoover's refusal to submit certain documents bearing on the negotiation of the pact.

It found itself confronted with the first reservation to be offered and there was a general belief this was attracting substantial support.

Some members say it is the issue upon which the opposition will wage its fight for rejection of the treaty or postponement of a vote until fall.

The reservation, proposed by Senator Norris, independent republican, Nebraska, would have the senate ratify the treaty "with the distinct and implicit understanding" it is not modified by any documents extraneous to itself and that it is accompanied by no collateral secret understandings.

Sentiment Divided.

Advocates of the treaty were divided in their attitude toward the Norris proposal. Some insisted it be approved. Others indicated they would vote for it if the preamble, telling of the president's refusal to produce the documents, is eliminated.

Senator Reed, republican, Pennsylvania, a member of the delegation to London, was outspoken in his opposition. Chairman Borah of the foreign relations committee withheld judgment pending study of the question.

The reservation was proposed late yesterday, shortly after Mr. Hoover's message declining to give over the papers had been read to the senate.

The president's action was vigorously assailed by Senator Johnson, republican, California. He called upon the senate for action that would be "more than denunciation."

The treaty debate will be resumed on Monday.

Carter Issues Report.

H. G. Carter, meteorolgist at the U. S. weather bureau, issued the following statement in regard to the heat wave:

"July 4, 1930, was the beginning of an unusually warm period in Lincoln. Temperatures have been well above normal for the past eight days, but the eight-day heat wave has broken no records.

"The heat of the present hot period has been exceeded five times since 1887, although is the warmest eight-day period since 1913. Two of these hot periods occurred in the long-remembered sweltering July of 1901, when a maximum temperature of 100 degrees or higher was recorded every day for ten consecutive days, July 8 to 17, inclusive. The maximum on June 18 failed to reach the hundred mark by three degrees, but on the next day a minimum of 101 degrees was recorded, and on the following eight days a maximum temperature of 100 degrees or higher was recorded each day. Thus, there was a period of twenty consecutive days with only one day when the thermometer did not register 100 degrees or higher.

Hot Spell in 1901.

"The warmest 8-day period at Lincoln was July 19 to 26, 1901, with an average maximum temperature of 104.2 degrees. Following this is the 8-day period, June 28 to July 5, 1911, with an average daily maximum temperature of 102.6 degrees. Next comes July 8 to 15, 1901, with 102.1 degrees; then August 30 to Sept. 6, with 101.4 degrees; August 13 to 20, with 101.1 degrees; and then sixth in rank comes July 4 to 11 this year with an average daily maximum of 100.9 degrees.

"As previously stated, the greatest number of consecutive days with a maximum temperature of 100 degrees or higher occurred in July, 1901, when there were two periods, one of ten days and another nine days. In 1911 there was a seven day period, June 29 to July 5. Five consecutive days with a maximum of 100 degrees or higher occurred July 13 to 17 in 1913, and July 27 to 31, 1917. This July a maximum of 100 degree or higher has been recorded every day since Monday, July 7, making a total of five days up to and including Friday.

"The average daily maximum temperature of the five consecutive hottest days during the present hot period is 102.6 degrees. Considerable comfort may be derived from the fact that the average daily maximum of a hot period occurring July 13-18, 1913, was 100.6 degrees, or more than 4 degrees hotter than this July. Daily maxima for a hot period occurring July 1-5, 1911, averaged 105.6 degrees, and for one of July 21-35, 1901, 104.6 degrees."

Wheat Continues Downward Plunge

CHICAGO, July 12—(AP)—Wheat prices dropped to new record low levels again today under the influence of favorable weather forecasts for the northwest.

September and December deliveries of wheat each fell one-fourth cent a bushel below the previous low marks and July at 85¾ equalled the minimum established yesterday. The close, unchanged to ¾ cents higher than yesterday, was at 86½ for July; 89½ to ⅝ for September and 95½ to ⅝ for December contracts.

The weather forecasts gave hope for relief from the prolonged hot spell. The trade regarded bearishly, too, the prospect of an increase Monday in the ample visible supply of domestic wheat.

MERCILESS SUN CONTINUES BEAT WESTERN PLAINS

Break in Heat Wave In Central Middlewest Expected Saturday. Deaths Directly Attributable to High Temperatures Reach 74.

CHICAGO, July 12—(AP)—Again today the weather news for middle America read: "Continued hot and bothered."

The "hot" part found no contradictions from the millions who have sweltered nearly a week. The "bother" was attested by collapsing collars and touchy tempers.

Weather reports would indicate that the ceaseless sun had an eye on a new heat endurance record. Today's forecast for Illinois, Michigan, Indiana and Missouri said "warmer." In the burning northwest, however, a more hopeful note sounded, with predictions of showers and slightly cooler.

Break Due Saturday.

"A break in the warm wave will occur Saturday or Saturday night in the northern and central portions of the middlewest," said the Chicago weather bureau.

The number of deaths directly attributable to the week's heat in the middlewest was seventy-four early today, including drownings as well as deaths resulting from prostration. In Iowa alone there have been twenty-five deaths in the past three days, and in Missouri twenty-four in the same period. Illinois, Kansas, Nebraska, the Dakotas and Minnesota also reported deaths due to the heat.

Temperature readings of 100 or above have become usual rather than the exception in most of the middle American states.

St. Louis was the hottest metropolis of America yesterday, having an official 104. Sikeston, Mo., repoted 112, the highest mark of the present wave. Other official readings for yesterday were: Des Moines, 100; Keokuk, 102; Kansas City, Mo., 100; Omaha, 102; Memphis, 102; Huron, S. D., 106; and Peoria, 102.

Chicago, Milwaukee and other lake shore cities continued to enjoy their strategic position, being fanned by cool breezes while sections inland sweltered.

fire on a farm near Haynesville, twenty miles south of here, last night.

James Crowe, 12, and Matt Crowe, 14, brothers, and Elmer Fuqua, 13, were watching workmen repair a rig after an oil well was brought in on the farm of Thurman Crowe, father of the Crowe boys. The well caught fire and burned them to death.

James Mattingly, 25, truck driver of Whitesville, and Harold Cornell, 18, of Hartford, part owner of the rig, died today of their burns.

The injured were: Thurman Crowe of the farm, and A. C. Cornell and Fred Cornell, brothers of Harold. The two Cornells were said to have slight chance for recovery.

It was believed someone near the well lit a match and accidentally set off the gas that filled the air about the well.

CONGRESSMAN FISH FAVORS BEER FOR THE WORKING MAN

BINGHAMTON, N. Y., July 12—(AP)—Representative Hamilton Fish, jr., representing the Twenty-sixth congressional district, told republican leaders at a meeting of the Young Men's Republican club last night he was in favor of modification of the Eighteenth amendment that would give "bottled beer to the working man."

Representative Fish said some definite stand on prohibition must be taken by the party at the convention this fall. He proposed a referendum on the question of repeal and modification as the way out.

"I believe," he said, "that the Eighteenth amendment should be modified to give bottled beer to the working man. This beer, in my opinion, should have an alcoholic content of around 4 per cent and should be on sale in such places as grocery stores and drug stores.

ONE KILLED IN DRIVE TO FORCE CO-OP JOINING

Two Others Wounded In Fight Among Fresno Grape Growers.

POLICE HOLD ONE, SEEKING BROTHER

Victim Arguing With Mother of Accused Pair.

FRESNO, Cal., July 12—(AP)—Willie Maglio, 23, was held and his younger half brother, Joseph Egileo, was being sought here today as authorities probed the death of A. L. Matignon, 33, shot while seeking the signature of the boys' mother, Mrs. Angela Egileo, to a co-operative grape contract sponsored by the federal farm board.

The shooting occurred as Matignon, Wilbur Berry, 33, another grape campaign worker, and ten other persons visited the Egileo home last night and sought to persuade Mrs. Egileo to join the co-operative movement. She previously had refused to sign.

The campaigners said they had been peacefully discussing the contract and were leaving the place when shots came from the ranch house Matignon fell, mortally wounded; Berry received bullets in the arm and chest, and a shot struck Mrs. Egileo in the elbow and side. Mrs. Egileo and Berry apparently were not seriously wounded.

Arrested At Hospital.

Maglio brought Mrs. Egileo to a hospital here and was arrested. He told officers he fired two shots through a rear screen door after hearing his half-brother shooting. Maglio asserted one of the contract solicitors had been armed, but each of them denied the charge.

Feeling has been running high against some of the non-signers in the grape growing district here because the campaign has been on the verge of failure. Last Wednesday, two grape growers asked protection from night riders, saying attempts were made to force them to sign the agreement.

The campaign to organize the growers ends Monday.

Eleven Arrested In Brokerage Shop Raid

Had Been Conducting Business In Omaha Over Long Distance Telephone For Some Time.

OMAHA, July 12—(AP)—Operations of a "long distance" brokerage shop here have been ended by a spectacular police raid, which netted eleven persons late yesterday.

The eleven were arrested in the office of Frederick Sloan & company, which has recently been dealing with about 50 customers by long distance telephone to points in Iowa, Minnesota, Wisconsin and Nebraska. Deputy County Attorney Marer, who accompanied raiders, stated that high officials of the company apparently had been warned of the impending raid, as they were not in the office when the squad entered.

Frederick Sloan was arrested as head of the organization. In addition to six women employes, four salesmen giving New York as their address, were arrested. All of the eleven were released on bond.

Police stated that the average telephone bill of the concern was from $250 to $350 daily.

Girl Unconscious While Soaring to Altitude Record

SAN DIEGO, Cal., July 12—(AP)—An unconscious girl slumped in the cockpit of a tiny monoplane as it soared five miles above Lindbergh field was believed today to have achieved a new altitude record for women.

The plane's instruments showed that the pilot, Ruth Alexander, had bettered by 6,600 feet her mark of 20,000 feet set July 4.

In relating her experience of yesterday the girl said she became unconscious when the altimeter showed 22,000 feet, her plane continuing to climb more than 4,000 feet before it hit the ceiling.

"The last thing I noted was 22,000 feet," said Miss Alexander. "My oxygen was pretty low and I was still climbing.

"Then I looked at my altimeter and it showed 18,000 feet. I couldn't realize what was wrong and thought something was 'haywire' with the instrument.

"I looked at my oxygen. I still had the tube between my teeth and was holding the stick in my hand, but the oxygen was gone. Then I realized that I had been 'out.'

"The plane was in a gentle left bank, slowly settling. It didn't feel so good, without any oxygen, so I dived pretty sharply to about 7,000 feet, and then came down more slowly."

Several New Cases Infantile Paralysis Reported in West

LOS ANGELES, July 12—(AP)—Dr. George Parrish, city health officer, today announced five new cases of infantile paralysis here, bringing the total this month to seventy-one with six deaths. Fifty-eight cases and five deaths were reported in June, with only twelve cases reported during the past three days. Dr. Parrish believed the outbreak had been checked.

Corn Grows a Foot

MONMOUTH, Ill., July 12—(AP)—The hot sun may be a trial to man and livestock, but it is good for corn. One farmer near here reported his corn grew a foot in two hot days of this week. Seven farmers working in oats fields had horses drop dead in harness yesterday. Another lost a cow, and fatalities among hogs were numerous.

PLATTE BRIDGE CONTRACTS LET

State Shares Half Cost Spans Near Odessa and Paxton.

Contracts for two new state aid bridges, one across the Platte river at Odessa and the other across the South Platte river at Paxton, were let Friday.

The Odessa bridge, a 900-foot structure with an 18-foot roadway, will cost $111,000, Roy Cochran, secretary of the public works department, said Saturday on his return to Lincoln. The contract was awarded to the Allied Contractors company of Omaha. The steel and concrete structure will cost $74,200 and the approaches and rip-rap will cost $36,800.

The Paxton bridge will cost $49,075. The Western Bridge and Construction company of Omaha was low bidder for the steel and concrete structure with a price of $42,420. Scott Bros. of North Platte were awarded the contract for building the approaches at a price of $6,655. The bridge will be 500 feet long.

Half the cost of each bridge will be paid by the state and the other half by Buffalo and Keith counties.

Military Funeral Is Held For Dr. Weber

Comrades In Arms In Two Wars Pay Last Tribute to Wahoo Man Who Had Long Been Leader.

WAHOO, Neb., July 12—(AP)—Members of the Wahoo American Legion post and representatives of each post in this district attended the military funeral rites here this morning for their comrade, Dr. E. O. Weber.

Representatives of the state department of the legion and of the Spanish-American war veterans headquarters were also present to honor the man who for many years had been recognized as one of their leaders.

Dr. Weber served in the two wars and a gun carriage bore his body to Greenwood cemetery here. "Teddy," the horse which carried his master at the head of many important legion celebrations in past years, was in the line of march.

Thousands of persons attended the funeral services, which were among the most impressive ever held in Wahoo.

MARSH PREPARES TO HEAR SEVERAL FILING PROTESTS

Secretary of State Frank Marsh was working at his home Saturday on a statement he expects to issue announcing the time when he will hear protests filed in his office against his receiving nomination petitions for certain candidates, including one from George W. Norris of Broken Bow for United States senator in the republican primary as an opponent of George W. Norris of McCook, present senator from Nebraska.

Mr. Marsh has heretofore indicated that he will conduct one hearing, possibly next Tuesday or Wednesday, on all remonstrances of the kind which are now on file or may be presented on or before Monday. Two more of them came in Saturday forenoon, increasing the number now before the secretary of state to half a dozen.

Protest Fred Johnson.

Objection is offered by C. K. Blackburn of Omaha to the filing made by Fred Johnson of Cotesfield for state auditor, republican. The latter is running against Fred H. Johnson of Lincoln, the present state auditor, L. B. Johnson, of Omaha, and others. His being in the race would hurt the chances of both the other Johnsons, but particularly Fred H. Johnson.

Blackburn asserts in his written protest that the Cotesfield man is not a member of the republican party in good standing and, because not affiliated with that organization, is not eligible to have his name on its ticket. He also contends that Fred Johnson did not file with the purpose of becoming a bona fide candidate for the office.

The candidacy of James H. Marsh, Omaha, for secretary of state in the republican primary against Frank Marsh of Norfolk, the incumbent, is objected to by Harry H. Ford of Omaha on the ground that it was not received in the secretary of state's office until July 5, whereas the time limit for primary entries expired July 3.

Mussolini and Kemal
Doyle Came Back
A New Jersey Ghost
Interesting Marriage

By ARTHUR BRISBANE

Musslini interests Europe and causes excitement in France, proposing an alliance with Germany.

France understands that the suggestion calls for a military alliance, or, at least, an agreement that Germany will remain neutral in case of an Italian-French war.

Mussolini ought to know what such an alliance really means when war really starts.

In 1914, Italy had an alliance with Germany and the kaiser was foolish enough to think it would stand up It did not

When Kemal Pasha, boss of Turkey, makes war he makes war You remember that Mussolini threatened him, and Kemal replied "If you sent Italian soldiers against me, the difficulty will be to find room to bury the number that I shall kill"

A dispatch from Turkey tells how Kemal trapped 1,000 rebellious Kurds in his Zeylan river valley and killed every one, granting no quarter.

That sounds like the old days when Mohammed himself was leader, and later when western Europe whispered in awe the name of "the Grand Turk"

The spirit of Conan Doyle has obliged by attending a seance of spiritualists He came a long way from London, forgetting, perhaps, to allow for the eastward movement of the earth He landed in the Bronx in upper New York City, and remarked "I am Conan Doyle, and I am glad to be here." Then he asked for pencil and paper and wrote a telephone number.

More important messages probably will come later, more appropriately located.

West Long Branch, N J, thinks it has a ghost It was first seen last Sunday night by a party of young people in an automobile They threw stones at the white figure, and swear that it stood 10 feet high

Night before last at midnight 3,000 people waited in a graveyard, borrowing courage from each other

Twice previously the ghost had rushed and scattered small groups of watchers.

On Wednesday, of the three thousand, only half a dozen women saw the spook.

Two thousand nine hundred and ninety-four, including the police, saw nothing That's about the average for ghosts, in real tests.

It is announced that Princess Juliana, only child of Queen Wilhelmina of Holland, and destined to be queen in her turn, will marry Prince Sigvard, son of the Swedish crown prince and grandson of the duke of Connaught.

How quickly human conditions and feelings change Prince Sigvard is the descendant of Bernadotte, one of Napoleon's marshals, who was the first Swedish king of his line And Bernadotte was the son of a little French lawyer, and, as Mr. Ripley tells you, Bernadotte had tattooed on his arm the slogan of the revolution. "Death to kings."

The administration has decided not to let the nation know what secret negotiations preceded the treaty it is asked to ratify. The normal majority of rubber stamp senators will sign with eyes shut, if they must.

Hiram Johnson and a few others take the responsibility of senators. in connection with treaties, seriously

The others take that part of the constitution no more seriously than they do the Eighteenth amendment.

If the senate does sign with its eyes shut and its brain uninformed it will indicate that, like the British house of lords, our senate is becoming more or less of a vermiform appendix, unnecessary and sometimes dangerous.

Miss Martha L. Connole, lady lawyer, replying to Mrs Thomas A. Edison's statement that women should remain in the home and out of business asks

"The home, where is that?"

Woman has been kicked out of the home, according to Miss Connole, and finds it hard to succeed in business because "chivalry has fallen into the ash can."

"When you see a woman working," says Lawyer Connole, "some man has fallen down on the job of providing for her support."

Schopenhauer said all women were in league to compel every man to support some one woman all her life, and marriage was part of that conspiracy

That, he said, was why women never forgive the woman whose loose life breaks up the plan

Business seems to be interfering with it, as immorality once did

OFFICER AT DES MOINES KILLED

Slain By Auto Driver He Was Cautioning For Recklessness.

DES MOINES, Ia, July 12—(AP)—Harry Ogilvie 47, former captain of police department and a utility member of the force, was fatally wounded early today. R. G. Karlson, 31, Des Moines, a bookkeeper was arrested after the shooting and was held in a city jail.

Ogilvie, police said, was riding in an automobile with Mr. and Mrs L. Campbell of Des Moines when Karlson drove around the corner in a reckless manner causing the former police captain to request him to halt

Police said that when Ogilvie got out of the car and walked over to the Karlson auto to caution Karlson about his driving, Karlson drew a revolver and shot the officer four times.

Ogilvie died in an ambulance on the way to a hospital from wounds in the abdomen and left arm. He is survived by his divorced wife and four children.

N. Y. SOCIAL CLUB BUILDING BOMBED

NEW YORK, July 12—(AP)—With a roar that was heard half a mile and with sufficient force to shatter scores of windows in the neighborhood, a bomb was exploded early today on a window ledge of the Simplon Social club, occupying a five-story building in West Fifty-third street, between Fifth and Sixth avenues.

Two cleaners at work in the rear and a caretaker were the only persons in the building at the time. The club had closed at 3 a. m., an hour and a half before the explosion. No one was injured.

A clock at Portland, Ore., has been in the service of a railroad company for sixty-one years.

Radox Brings Foot Comfort To America

Nothing Like It Ever Sold By Druggists Before

Corns—Callouses—Burning Feet

Now you can buy Radox in America at any upto date drug store. Harley Drug Co. is selling dozens of packages a day.

Three or 4 baths according to directions and your corns and callouses are gone, your tired, burning, aching feet are changed to strong vigorous ones and bear this in mind—

If Radox doesn't do as advertised—money back.

Getting a corn out needs only a few Radox footbaths. In the last few years millions of packets of Radox have been sold to corn sufferers. Here is a typical letter:—

"My wife had a very bad corn for several years on the ball of the foot, and four smaller ones on the toes, also hard skin which was very painful. After a few soakings in a Radox footbath the hard skin began to peel off, and the corns came right out after a week It is a pleasure for her to walk now." E S 1st November 1929

Radox contains four different Salts. One banishes odor, one is antiseptic, one softens the water, and one releases oxygen which carries the softening salts right to the roots of corns which are thus loosened so that they can be lifted out bodily Only Radox contains this fourfold combination.—Advertisement.

GERMANY HAS A 'COLD WAVE'

BERLIN, July 12—(AP)—After a long period of warm weather, Germany is experiencing a chilly mid-July. It is rainy and cool in Berlin and in parts of the Black forest last night the temperature slumped as low as 0.3 centigrade.

For the temperature to drop to as low as 32.54 degrees Fahrenheit, the point indicated, is decidedly unusual. Freezing weather in mid-July is almost unheard of in Germany.

MOONEY WITNESS ADMITS PERJURY

Man in Baltimore Says Desires to Undo His Wrong.

BALTIMORE, July 12—(AP)—John McDonald, principal prosecution witness against Thomas Mooney and Warren K. Billings, serving life sentences for the preparedness day parade bombing in San Francisco in 1916, said today he had perjured himself at the trial and now desires to 'undo the wrong'

Sought in connection with efforts of the Mooney Defense league to obtain pardons for the two men, McDonald was taken into custody here after being recognized by a neighbor He was held on a nominal charge of investigation.

Issues Statement.

After his arrest he issued a statement through an attorney in which he said:

"I, John McDonald, aged 58 years, residing in Baltimore City, testified as a witness for the state of California versus Thomas Mooney and Warren K. Billings. I never saw Mooney until taken to the hall of justice in San Francisco and was told by an officer that this is Mooney (pointing him out to me). My testimony in the various cases was untrue and false. I desire to undo the wrong done by me in sending Mooney to prison regardless of personal consequences. The authorities got me to testify that I identified Mooney, but this is an absolute falsehood."

Made Previous Affidavit.

Five years after the conviction of Mooney and Billings, McDonald made an affidavit at Trenton, N. J., in which he said he was not positive of his identification of either. The affidavit was used in an effort to obtain pardons.

In refusing to grant the latest pardon petition a few days ago, Gov. C. C. Young of California indicated his decision might be reversed if McDonald were produced to repeat his repudiation before the governor and the Supreme court.

McDonald cannot be compelled to return to California. His appearance before officials there would be voluntary as there are no charges against him and he cannot be extradited to obey a subpoena from the California Supreme court.

Governor Comments.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 12—(AP)—The Mooney Defense league announced today it would ask Frank P. Walsh, New York attorney, to induce John McDonald to return here and submit to questioning regarding the statement he made in Baltimore confessing his testimony against Thomas W. Mooney had been false.

News of McDonald's statement brought cheers at a meeting of the San Francisco labor council last night. The announcement was made at the height of a bitter argument over resolutions introduced by the carmen's union advocating a new drive for Mooney's release from prison. No definite action was taken.

In Los Angeles Gov C C Young said

"If it is McDonald who is in jail in Baltimore, and he is sincere in his wish to come to California and tell his story to the proper authorities, I shall expect to see those involved questioned and the truth obtained."

DETROIT GANG WAR REOPENS

Men In Two Cars Shoot Out Grudge Until One Killed.

DETROIT, July 12—(AP)—Gang warfare claimed another victim here early today. Sam Cilufo, who police say was a veteran bootlegger and racketeer, was killed in a gun battle on East Jefferson avenue about 12 30 a m

Cilufo and a companion were riding in a small coupe. Another car followed, and its occupants opened fire Their bullets pierced the tires of Cilufo's automobile, forcing him to stop. His companion leaped out and escaped on foot.

Cilufo gave battle but several bullets entered his body One shattered his arm and silenced his pistol The assassins drove away Police who arrived a few minutes later found the mortally wounded gangster in his car still clutching a revolver. He died without speaking.

Attic Lover Gets Freedom Through Legal Loophole

LOS ANGELES, July 12—(AP)—Slipping through a legal loophole, Otto San huber, attic lover, was free today, although convicted of slaying Fred Oesterreich, wealthy Milwaukee manufacturer, in his home eight years ago.

A jury found Sanhuber guilty of manslaughter instead of murder, and thereby gave him his liberty. Yesterday the court ruled that the verdict must be set aside on the ground the statute of limitations for manslaughter is three years.

For more than ten years, Sanhuber had lived in small attics in the Oesterreich homes here and in Milwaukee, as the clandestine sweetheart of Mrs Walburga Oesterreich.

One evening Sanhuber told the grand jury which indicted him, Oesterreich quarreled with his wife. Sanhuber testified he crept from his attic and shot Oesterreich as he feared Mrs. Oesterreich was being injured. This confession he repudiated during his trial for murder.

The case was revived when Herman Shapiro, former attorney for Mrs. Oesterreich revealed the existence of the attic lover. The woman still faces trial.

GIRL TELLS OF BEING KIDNAPED

Opal Snyder Says Man and Woman Carried Her Away.

Demanded Keys of Truck Operated By Her Father.

HARTINGTON Neb, July 12—(AP)—Under questioning Friday by County Attorney C E. Haley of Cedar county, Opal Snyder, 16-year-old Laurel girl told Haley that her assailants were a man and woman, who drove a Ford automobile bearing a Colorado license plate The girl told authorities that the couple had demanded that she get them the keys to a truck her father uses in commercial hauling

When just two blocks from home early Wednesday night, the machine approached the girl A woman got out of the car and asked the way to Wayne, the girl said The women and the girl then went toward the auto. As they neared the car the woman grabbed the girl and put her into the machine

The girl told her questioners that the woman then stuffed a handkerchief into her mouth and the car sped off into the country The girl said that she thought she must have been in the car about three hours.

Thrown Into Field.

After repeated attempts to get the girl to tell where the keys to her father's truck could be found, the car drove up to a corner of the pasture on the A V Ward farm The man and woman lifted the girl out, carried her to the fence and threw her over She was found there early Thursday morning Examination by Dr A C Lutton of Laurel showed bruises on one cheek and both wrists The girl told the physician that the bruises were made by the rubbing of the parts with a brick which the couple used in the attempt to get her to talk

When questioned about the man and women the girl could only say the woman wore a gingham dress and had rather long hair, and the man was medium sized and wore a dark suit The only description given of the car was that it was a Ford touring car with side curtains Attorney Haley said that the fence over which the girl was thrown was about four feet high

Today the girl seemed perfectly normal, and all signs of hysteria were gone Haley said Further attemps will be made to learn of the man and woman People about the streets of Laurel at the time the girl said she was picked up could tell Haley nothing of seeing the car or the man and woman.

PRISONER SOUGHT BY MOB HIDDEN

Texas Negro, Alleged Slayer Of White Woman, Spirited Away —3-Year-Old Daughter Witnesses Killing.

SHAMROCK, Tex., July 12—(AP)—Peace officers told conflicting stories otday as to the whereabouts of Jesse Lee, negro, hurried away from a mob that sought to lynch him for the alleged slaying of Mrs. Henry Vaughan, a white woman, yesterday.

Sheriff Claude McKinney who sped from the scene of the slaying with the negro, said he had taken him to Hollis, Okla., to be sent to the state reformatory at Granite, Okla, for safe keeping

Granite reformatory officials insisted the negro had not been placed in their custody.

Mrs. Vaughan was found slain in the yard of her farm home. Her head had been crushed by a heavy iron pipe. A three-year-old daughter was witness to the slaying.

As Sheriff McKinney was fleeing toward the Oklahoma line with a mob following in automobiles, he discovered two Shamrock men in his car. He forced them out at the point of a pistol.

Could Write a Book About It

"Nine years ago after my little girl was born dead, I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for about four months. The next year I became the mother of a fine 11 pound baby boy. After he was born, I kept on with the medicine to build me up. Four months ago I was nervous and rundown and suffered from other troubles which I knew Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound would relieve so I started taking it and now I feel fine again. Many of my friends could write a book on the good the Vegetable Compound has done them."—Mrs. W. LINCOLN'S WATER PROBLEM

Lincoln's water problem is again forced to the front as a result of the protracted period of high temperatures, occasioning a heavy draft upon the reserve supply stored in reservoirs for just such an emergency as has arisen.

It is comforting to be told by Commissioner Schroeder there is little likelihood of a shortage. The warning sent out by the department that it might be necessary to shut off the use of water for lawns and shrubbery seems to have produced the desired results. The added care taken to see that water is not wasted enabled the pumps to gain some during the last two days and the levels in the reservoirs have not been perceptibly dimnished.

So long as Lincoln is content to depend upon present sources for its water supply, it may expect to have the constant shadow of a shortage hanging over it. There has never been a period of extreme heat and dryness that did not bring forth warnings from the city hall that unless people adopted methods of conserving water it might be necessary to adopt rigid regulations for its use. On two occasions it has been deemed advisable to put these restrictions into effect. The situation is far more acute now in spite of the new wells which have been brought in in the last two years and the additional storage facilities added at heavy cost. For one thing there has been a big increase in population. Then the physical area of the corporate city has expanded enormously. There is more than twice as much land included in the city limits as there was twenty years ago. That has increased the burdens of adequate fire protection and calls for more water for use upon lawns and grounds.

After the citizens of Lincoln have spent hundreds of thousands of dollars upon grass and flowers and trees, they object to losing them because of a lack of water. It costs money to surround a home with beautiful grounds and it represents a real loss when all of that forethought and careful planning is wiped out because there is no water to keep vegetation alive. Much of the attractiveness of Lincoln is found in the residential sections. More than the usual effort has been put forth by her citizens to beautify the homes and this applies to the cottage as well as the mansion on the hill.

If, in the next ten years, Lincoln shall attain a population of 100,000 people, and that will call for a smaller increase than was recorded in the last decade, the water problem will be far more serious. Actual tests have demonstrated that the levels in the Salt Creek valley wells have decreased alarmingly in the last twenty years. Wells located upon high ground have gone dry. Even in the valleys where the underground flow is closer to the surface there is less water. To gamble upon the residential, business and industrial needs of Lincoln for an adequate water supply is folly. That is one matter in which no community can afford to pursue a parsimonious policy. It will prove frightfully expensive if Lincoln continues to ignore the necessity of arranging for a permanent, sufficient water supply.

During the last ten years the commission has made a number of surveys and each time the engineers have recommended tapping the Platte. It may cost millions to bring water from the nearest point that the river approaches Lincoln but it will be cheap at any price if such a step means that the worries over water are definitely eliminated.

One of the commission's reasons for asking for more money for municipal affairs is to give added study to the water problem and to work out finally a definite program. There is no time for delay. A continued growth, less than has taken place in the last ten years, will give Lincoln more than 100,000 people in 1940. But people will not continue to establish homes and businesses in Lincoln if the city continues to ignore the urgency of settling the water question.

LETTERS CARRIED TOO CHEAPLY.

It is not believed that there will be any widespread opposition to the proposal of Postmaster General Brown to increase the rate on letters, or first class mail from 2 cents to 2½ cents per ounce. The deficit in the postoffice department for the past year is given as $50,000,000, and the estimated shortage for the current year is set at $60,000,000. Obviously this deficit must be paid from the general fund, which means that the people as a whole must pay a portion of the cost of service rendered to a part of the people.

There is no apparent reason why Mr. A should pay only 2 cents for carrying a letter, when the cost of such service is 2½ cents, leaving all of the rest of the people to pay the remainder of the expense, while Mr. A alone benefits from the transaction. Assistant Postmaster General Tilton, supposed to be financial expert of the department, says that if the real cost of handling first class mail were collected from those who use such service the deficit would be wiped out and the department placed on a sound basis; and his statement sounds reasonable.

There can be little if any complaint made as to the manner in which the mails of the country are handled or of the service rendered by the department. In fact there seems little room for improvement along this line. But every year there is a huge deficit and this is not good business. As a public utility the postoffice department should pay its own way. In this connection it is pointed out that the present rate for first class mail has been in effect since 1885, while the cost of everything else on earth has advanced approximately 100 per cent. There is no reason why this condition should continue.

Practically all of the extra work done by postal employes is the result of a desire upon the part of officials to expeditiously handle mail of this class. Carriers make extra trips and other attaches put in extra time. Every facility that can be suggested is added in order that first class letters may reach their destinations promptly. Efficiency has been attained, but it has cost money, while there has been no additional charge to the parties who are so excellently served.

It is true, as has been charged, that there are abuses of the franking privileges, and these should be eliminated. But the total cost of handling all franked matter is a mere pittance in comparison with the total deficit. The latter comes from the first class mail, carried now for what it was forty-five years ago. The mere statement of this fact is sufficient to show where the trouble lies.

DON QUIXOTE AND BUSINESS.

Don Quixote lives again today. Don Quixote is American business solving the unemployment problem. The only trouble is that the new Don Quixote hasn't yet found the wise servant that will get him out of trouble.

The folly of fighting windmills has been the standing mark of derision in references to the pathetic would-be conquests of Don Quixote. It is as nothing compared with the blindness of American business when confronted with organization of business in the interests of the masses instead of in the interests of the selfish few.

American business armored itself with improved machinery. It went forth to ride on efficiency experts who cut production costs and increased the productive capacity of labor and machines. It whipped its mechanical horse of mass production into a frenzy to take advantage of available markets.

And then it bumped up against the windmill of economic depression which was pouring forth an increasing army of unemployed. It met the decreased purchasing power of technological unemployment with retrenchments which added to the unemployed and further decreased purchasing power. Instead of turning the results of productive efficiency into new productive channels, it released men of all ages and capacities to face its blind dashes at the windmill without protection.

Armed with the heroics of prosperity, it forgot the problems of distribution. Charged with the zeal of conquest, it forgot the ground work of sympathy. Obsessed with its mission of production, it trampled over the bodies and souls of the helpless masses, in its mad effort to attack the depression bogey.

Business, today, is sadly in need of its wise servant. He will be a servant who recognizes the truths of liberty as well its fictions. He will be a servant who can check the mad impulses of business to excess, for private profit, to develop a more rational system of production with adequately planned methods of distribution. He will be a servant who will recognize that the increased productive capacities of modern machinery and efficiency make possible the employment of more people at shorter hours at higher wages for the manifold benefits of all economic life. And he will be a servant rich in the wisdom of the ideals of kindness, sympathy, honest reward for honest effort, whose loss has spelled the breakdown of the normal processes of much of modern American big business. The industrial revolution, through a myriad of changes, has produced a Don Quixote, frantically fighting the phantoms erected by his own selfish incompetence. He is crying aloud for his servant to set him back upon the path of wholesome living, that the masses may laugh at his antics rather than form woe-begone bread lines in city after city.

A 3-year-old baby was a stowaway on an ocean liner. Something new in the way of get up and go from the younger generation.

QUESTION.

Lexington, Ky.

Is it true that lying is a natural proclivity in the average person?

ANSWER.

There may be exceptional personalities in whom lying is habitual. But with the mass of us it has to be acquired, and like everything else it requires practice to keep it going. Since truth often hides behind countless illusions it is sometimes hard to find, and to retain it after it is found.

You can imagine how much more difficult it is to establish a lie which endeavors to represent something as existing which has no existence. Carlyle's comment was correct that falsehood can do nothing except make trouble for everybody concerned. One can lock up one's possessions from a thief, but not from a liar.

Persistency in the attempt to create something real out of nothing saps the very basis of character. Those who are guilty of this sin may deceive others for the time being, but in the end they invariably deceive themselves. Such an attempt makes one a liar by choice, not by necessity, with the result that a person may become so addicted to lying that truth cannot find a foothold in him. The wilful liar is also very often a palpable fool.

QUESTION.

Fort Wayne, Ind.

How is Russia's industrial experiment progressing? Some reports are hopeful, others say that communism is bound to fail. What is your opinion?

ANSWER.

Beyond question there has been a marked increase of Russia's productive power during the first fiscal year of the "Five Years Plan" which the Soviet leaders declare will place Russia on the top of the economic world. It is also estimated that provided that plan can be carried out, and with fair climatic conditions, twenty million tons of grain will be added to next year's agrarian budget.

These prospects have intensified communistic zeal to such a degree, that the government has increased the capital investment of the state in agriculture and industry to seven milliards of rubles. One Moscow correspondent believes the Soviets have the lead and that labor is being disciplined by centralized authority. He asserts that 250,000 operatives are at the disposal of the administration, ready to undertake any factory program irrespective of personal gain.

Moreover the press is entirely controlled by the Reds. Consequently they can print what they please and their censorship deletes unfavorable reports. Their currency is inflated, although it should be noted that they hope to redress its balance by exports of grain. It seems to an outsider like a gamble in which the Soviets have hitherto won because they have stopped at nothing to gain their ends. But a system based on force cannot last. Repressive measures and politicians of the most experimental kind are hopelessly entangled with Russia's present social and economic order, and as I see it, they will ultimately wreck the ambitious dreams of the Soviets.

QUESTION.

Raleigh, N. C.

You have previously said that the Old Testament is not as explicit on the question of immortality as the New Testament. I am a Jew and would like to know the reasons for your statement.

ANSWER.

The New Testament was written by Jews and for this boon we owe them an additional debt of gratitude. They were Christian believers who understood their ancestral scriptures and had also experienced the regeneration of the new faith. Hence the second Epistle of Timothy declares that Christ "abolished death and brought life and immortality to light through the gospel" (i, 10). The writer of this letter had evidently traced the developments of Biblical teaching and found its climax in his Risen Lord.

The Old Testament presents two views of the future life. In Job (xiv, 7-12) we are plainly told that man's life ends with his bodily death. From this and similar teachings the Sadducees doubted and in some instances denied immortality. The second view consigned departed spirits to Sheol, where they existed in a shadowy form, awaiting the hour of final judgment. The Pharisees held this latter view and the apocalyptic parts of the Bible reflect it.

The Christian doctrine of the future was influenced by Greek thought, which taught the soul's immortality as distinguished from the body's resurrection. St. Paul blended both elements in the familiar passage which occurs in I Corinthians xv. The Apostle there asserts the eternal life of the blessed ones, who are clothed upon with a "spiritual body."

For the latest works on the issue, read R. H. Charles's "Eschatology, Hebrew, Jewish and Christian"; L. B. Paton's "Spiritism in Antiquity," and James H. Snowden's volume on "The Christian Belief in Immortality." Professor Ismar J. Peritz, of Syracuse University, the learned and well-known teacher of Oriental languages, agrees with my statement referred to in your letter.

BURGESS BEDTIME STORIES

Egret's Sad Story

BY THORNTON W. BURGESS.

The way to make a sorrow last
Is constant thinking of the past.
—Mother West Wind.

Egret the White Heron was making his first visit to the Smiling Pool. He had told Peter Rabbit and Jerry Muskrat that this was his first visit to the North, but that once upon a time, so he had heard, his family used to come North regularly. That sounded to Peter Rabbit like a story, and you know Peter dearly loves stories.

"If you please," said Peter, "why did your family give up coming North?"

Egret looked very serious. His eyes became rather sad looking. "Do you ever see any of those two-legged creature called Men?" he asked.

"Of course," said Peter.

"Of course," said Jerry Muskrat.

"Then you have seen the reason that my family gave up coming North," explained Egret.

"You mean that those two-legged creatures hunted the members of your family with terrible guns, don't you?" said Peter.

Egret nodded. "That's it,' said he.

"Did they hunt the Egrets to eat?' continued Peter.

This time Egret shook his head. "No," said he, "not that I know of. They hunted us for something else. Do you see these fine feathers on my back?"

Both Peter and Jerry nodded. "We were talking about them," said Jerry. "Never have we seen any feathers like them."

"They are beautiful," said Egret, "but they very nearly put an end to my family. Yes, sir, they very nearly put an end to my family. When I think of it, it is a wonder to me that a single Egret is alive now. It was for their beautiful feathers that the Egrets were hunted by those two-legged creatures with terrible guns. They wanted our beautiful feathers. Those were terrible times, terrible times! They were before my day, but I've been told about them and I can't bear to think of them. When I think of the thousands and thousands of young Egrets that starved to death in their nests, it is a wonder to me that a single Egret is alive today."

Peter Rabbit looked at Jerry Muskrat, and Jerry looked at Peter, and in the eyes of both was a puzzled expression "What made them starve to death?" said Peter after a while.

"If you please," said Peter, "why did your family give up coming North?"

"The two-legged creatures with terrible guns that wanted the feathers of the fathers and mothers," explained Egret. "You see, it is only in the nesting season that we have, these beautiful feathers, which are called plumes. So the hunters would wait until the nesting season Then they would seek out the nests and shoot the old birds as they brought food to their young. Then, of course, the young would starve to death. Oh, it was terrible, terrible! So the Egrets stopped coming North because there were only a few of them left. They sought out the most difficult places in the Far South wherein to build their homes ;but even there the feather hunters followed them. Finally, when there were only a few left, the hunters stopped coming."

Of course, Egret didn't know it, but the reason the hunting stopped was because those who loved the birds secured the passage of a law protecting the Herons and forbidding the wearing of their wonderful plumes. It was true, as Egret had said, that only a few of his family were left! so few, indeed, that for a time it was feared that there would soon be no more Egrets left.

A·NICE·GIRL·COMES·TO·TOWN

By Maysie Greig

SYNOPSIS: Mary Lou breaks her engagement with Tony because they originally had agreed that it should be only temporary, and because she thinks that Tony doesn't want to become serious with any girl. Almost immediately she receives a proposal from Brynmor, who was her sweetheart before she met the debonair, dashing Tony. Disappointed because of the outcome of her affair with Tony, Mary Lou resigns herself to marrying Brynmor, with whom she is not thoroughly in love. She has been unhappy ever since she accepted his proposal. Though she hates to admit it, she still loves Tony. From London Mary Lou returns to her country home to prepare for the wedding.

Chapter 30.

WEDDING PRESENTS.

Until a week before the wedding Mary Lou could not realize that she actually was to be married.

When the presents began to arrive, however, the reality of the situation forced itself upon her.

Among other things, there was a silver coffee set from Miss Titherington.

A note on it said, "Be happy, child. But I do wish you were marrying Tony."

Mary Lou buried her face in a pillow and wept.

"Don't I wish so, too!"

Her family had shown no special enthusiasm over her approaching marriage to Brynmor. Dr. Leslie, who long ago decided not to interfere with his daughter's affairs, had not passed an opinion.

Only once, during one week-end when Brynmor came down, had he said anything to Mary Lou

"Would you mind keeping that young man of yours out of my study?" he had requested. "He sits and talks to me by the hour."

"Does he bore you, Daddy? asked Mary Lou sympathetically.

"Well, I wouldn't go as far as to say that, exactly."

"I know," Mary Lou sighed, in perfect understanding. "I feel the same way about him myself."

"What?" her father's bushy eyebrows rose in astonishment. "Then my dear child, why on earth—"

Mary Lou smiled at him. "Don't worry, Daddy darling, I'm only feeling about Brynmor now in the way that most wives feel about their husbands soon after the wedding, so what's the odds?"

Doctor Leslie had let it go at that.

As she lay weeping in the midst of the first wedding gifts, Mary Lou concluded there was nothing to be done. That table full of presents seemed to block every avenue of escape.

She reached for the last parcel that was unopened. It contained a suit of silk underwear—in an atrocious shade of bright pink. Enclosed was a card—"Miss Gwendolyn Carruthers."

Mary Lou lay back and laughed hysterically.

"Good old Gwendolyn," she cried. "That's the first laugh I've had in weeks!"

She stared up at the ceiling, and mused about the future.

She could picture Brynmor working in a garden, with her watching him—watching him, perhaps, but all the time thinking of something up in the clouds....Tony—flying.

Whatever pains she took to bar that thought, it inevitably returned.

"I wonder if I ever shall see Tony again?"

Mary Lou did see Tony again. Ironically enough, it was the very day before the wedding.

She had been in London doing some last-minute shopping. As she rushed out of Jay's shop shortly before noon, she collided with Tony as he was dashing into the shop—to leave her wedding present with Jay.

Mary Lou gasped. "Tony!"

For a moment Tony was speechless. Then he took her by the arm. "Jump into the car, Mary Lou We'll drive somewhere and have lunch. I want to talk with you."

Into the car she climbed obediently. The long car nosed its way toward Richmond.

"Comfy, Mary Lou?" Tony asked.

She nodded, too happy to talk.

It was nearly lunch time when they arrived at Richmond. They ate on a lawn that sloped down to the river.

"I can't really believe I'm being married tomorrow," Mary Lou commented.

Tony sat there and studied her profile. He was amazed to realize in that moment that nothing ever would matter to him—except Mary Lou. He couldn't deny that he loved her.

Why had he been so block-headed before? He must have loved her long ago. His resolution never to marry seemed idiotic now.

And tomorrow—tomorrow she was marrying this fellow Whittamore. It was too late to do anything about it except to be a sport.

When the silence had become too painful, she said, "Yes, it does seem hard to believe, doesn't it? Whittamore has asked me to his bachelor dinner tonight.

"Are you going?"

"I haven't decided."

"Are you coming down to the wedding, Tony?"

Tony thought for a moment. "I'll tell you what, Mary Lou. I won't attend, but I'll fly down in Gay Girl. What time is the ceremony?"

"Two."

"Well, on your way to the church, look up into the sky. I'll write a message of good luck—just for you, Mary Lou. When you see Gay Girl, wave. Please wave, Mary Lou—" It suddenly seemed desperately important she should wave to him tomorrow.

"All right," she promised. "I'll do it. But I must be getting back to town, Tony. Jay and I simply must catch the four o'clock train."

"Oh, damn the train," said Tony with vehemence. "I've a little gift for you, Mary Lou. May I give it to you now?"

He took from his pocket a small red velvet box and pushed it awkwardly into her hands. Mary Lou stood in the sunlight and opened it—a miniature of Gay Girl set in diamonds, on a long thin platinum brooch.

Tears stung her eyes and her hand shook as she held it.

"It's lovely, Tony."

"Wanted you to have something to remind you of the flight," he mumbled.

Something to remind her of the flight....

The ride back to town was miserable. The silence bristled with things they wanted to say, but couldn't say. And everything they could say seemed utterly futile and useless.

At last, back in front of Jay's shop, Mary Lou stood by the curb and prayed for some miracle to prolong the moment. Tony fidgeted with the steering wheel, then put the car into gear.

"Well, cheerio, Mary Lou. Don't forget to watch for Gay Girl tomorrow—"

In Monday's chapter Tony makes a desperate effort to drown his regrets.

Outside of Jay's shop she collided with Tony.

Diet and Health

By Lulu Hunt Peters, M. D.

Author of "Diet and Health" and "Diet for Children."

KEEP COOL WITH CALMNESS; DON'T LET HEAT EXCITE YOU

Dear Followers: It is cool, as I write this, but as no doubt there will be some sizzling weather this summer, I must give you some suggestions to prevent discomfort and illness from the heat.

It happens now that I am getting ready for my summer vacation, and so have to prepare the column 'way ahead. This summer I am going to have one of the most wonderful vacations I have ever had. I've had the honor to be appointed one of the official delegates of the American Public Health association to the international hygiene exhibition and world health congresses, to be held at Dresden this usmmer, so I anticipate not only having a happy time, but a profitable one, and will get a lot of good material for the column so that you can participate in the benefits.

I now am in Europe, and will be gone seven weeks. Your requests for material will be complied with, as usual, but, of course, no questions can be answered during that period.

I'll give you the same points for keeping cool that I gave last year, as they are just as applicable. The only thing I will add is a little something to the paragraph on bobbed hair. You will notice it.

Hint No. 1—Discard all clothing that the law will permit. This applies to children, and babies particularly.

Hint No. 2—Overweight or underweight, eat less meat and less concentrated energy and heating foods, and eat more salads and fruits. The high protein foods have more waste heat to be eliminated by the body, therefore they make you warmer. Eat less meat, fish, egg whites, and also cut down the rich pastries and fatty and oily foods. Get a large share of your protein in milk in various forms, and cheese, preferably cottage cheese. You should always do this, for that matter. Don't eat large meals. If you are thin and get hungry between meals, take some fruit or milk. Drink plentifully of water. Twelve to 15 glasses are recommended by Tice. Iced water is all right with your meals or between your meals, if you drink it slowly; and it certainly is a hundred times more refreshing. Remember my caution: drink it slowly: don't gulp down two or three glasses of iced water at a time. It may be such a shock to your solar plexus that it may give uncomfortable, or worse than uncomfortable, results. Be very moderate with tea and coffee, and take no alcoholic drinks.

Hint No 3—Take a cold bath a dozen times a day, if you can. If you have a weak heart, your physician may tell you to be careful of this advice Any quick shock has to be avoided in such cases. But you can take cold sponge baths

Hint No 4—If you have an electric fan, keep it busy. Air in motion is more cooling

Hint—No 5—If you have to be out of doors, keep on the shady side of the street, or carry a sun umbrella.

Hint No. 6 — Don't run after street cars or anything else. Do as little physical work as possible.

Hint No. 7—If it is so hot at night that you can't sleep, wring a towel out of cold water and lay over yourself. The evaporation of the water cools you off.

I don't take cold by any of these measures I am advising, and I don't believe you will.

Hint—No. 8, If you are a woman have your hair bobbed, if it isn't already. It's comfortable, clean, comely and cool. (Irrespective of what the hair dressers, false hair and hairpin manufacturers say, it hasn't gone out of fashion nor will it ever—I hope—any more than short hair will for men. They used to wear theirs long, you know.)

New Note: The newest style of bobbing is to have the back hair long enough to curl in short ringlets, or to be pinned into a tiny knot. But it is still bobbed hair—not long.

Hint No. 9 — Don't get excited about the heat. Keep cool with calmness.

Dr. Lulu Hunt Peters died in London on June 28. These articles had been prepared by her for future publication.

Grand Island and Beatrice Report Business Better

OMAHA, July 12—(AP)—Among those answering optimistically the second business questionnaire sent out through the state by the Omaha chamber of commerce were Beatrice and Grand Island.

"Financial conditions for the first six months have improved considerably over 1929," wrote C. F. Overbeck, secretary of the Beatrice chamber. "Business in the second quarter was better than in any previous year."

David J. Thrall, commissioner of the Grand Island chamber, reported business conditions are improving steadily there, with "wonderful crop prospects" at present.

THREE GIRLS DROWNED.

MANISTIQUE, Mich., July 12—(AP)—The bodies of three girls, Mrs. Lawrence Grenier, 16, and her sisters, Genevieve Laberty, 13, and Lena, 11, were found Friday in Lake MacDonald near here. Mrs. Grenier's year old infant was found unharmed in a rowboat tied to the shore. It was believed the girls went swimming and suddenly stepped in water beyond their depth.

Here and There

The Best Time to Quarrel.

(Kansas City Star.)

M. J. Flanigan, being manager of the safety department of the Chicago, Milwaukee, St. Paul & Pacific railroad, should know something about it, and he tells the wives of railroad operatives that family quarrels should be saved for supper, as breakfast squabbles are conducive to accidents. The counsel seems reasonable enough, except that supper fights beget bad sleep and bad sleep destroys interest in breakfast, thus establishing a sort of vicious circle in the matter of moods and irritants.

But just why should Mr. Flanigan's advice be directed to the wives rather than to the husbands or both? Also why the seeming presumption that quarrels are something that may be timed and otherwise regulated? Human experience suggests that few family quarrels are premeditated. Nearly always they are spontaneous eruptions growing out of opposing convictions, both of which are right, of course. If, in fact, we could have definite times when it would be appropriate to say "Let us quarrel," as we might say, "Let us sing" or "Let us pray," and if it would be considered shocking taste to propose quarrels at any other time, there probably would be very few domestic encounters. There isn't much zest in us for pre-arranged fighting except for those of us who follow the prize ring.

The only explanation that occurs to us for Mr. Flanigan's exclusion of the men in his safety lecture is that women are much more likely to have their way about things they want. At any rate, we hope he may have his way about the breakfasts—that they may be happier, and being happier, contribute to the safety of all of us. This result accomplished, we hope the safety executive will turn his attention to the suppers.

Rouge and Romance.

(Chicago Herald-Examiner)

Dr. Fritz Wittels, learned in the psychology of love, an da lecturer at the New School for Social Research, informs us why the ladies "make up" so much these days.

It seems men are too busy working to pay them court in the leisurely and proper manner of the old troubadours or even the beaux back in the early Roosevelt epoch. Men have changed a little, but women haven't. They still crave intense romantic love and admiration.

So, lacking it, "they turn to the mirrors to make up the deficiency in their love life." If they can't have chivalry, well, they will buy cosmetics and admire themselves.

There is some reason in this. But even in far-off days women weren't always satisfied. They were always dreaming about some distant troubadour who could sing sweeter than their husbands. Some Arnaut Daniels, some Petrarch, some Will Osborne or Rudy Vallee of the time.

The Wish For Remembrance.

(Chicago Herald-Examiner)

The other day in Chicago a group gathered at a grave, in accordance with an arrangement in the will of the dead man. Each one who came was to be given from five to twenty dollars.

A Michican man has just died, leaving a will which orders the executrix to buy 100 cigars to be smoked by the men who attend his funeral, and to purchase candy and gum for the women and children who attend.

Just Folks by Edgar A. Guest

BEGGING A LADY'S PARDON.

You have pity for the deaf, you have pity for the blind,
And I know that you have pity for the lame,
Then I beg you, lady fair, if I've met you anywhere
Forgive me if I can't recall your name.

I confess to my regret, several times we may have met,
And your lovely face is one I should recall,
Lady, do not be so cross; mine's the pain and mine's the loss,
Names are things I cannot seem to keep at all.

It is not my disposition, it's my memory that's bad,
It's your pity I deserve and not your blame,
So be gracious and be sweet, and the next time that we meet
Please forgive me if I can't recall your name.

MARKET QUOTATIONS

GRAIN MARKETS.

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Ill., July 12

Nervous and irregular action of the wheat market today kept traders on edge from start to finish, but with prices at the last exactly the same as yesterday's close to ⅝c higher. There seemed to be a better European demand under the market which with ominous crop advices from Saskatchewan province, Canada, served to bring about rallies notwithstanding a temporary tumble to new low price levels. It was reported that crop conditions north of Regina and Moosejaw, Saskatchewan, are far worse than last year, and that rains cannot save the crop there now.

Wheat closed unsettled, unchanged to ⅝c up. July, 86½c; September, 89½@⅝c; December, 95½@⅝c.

Corn finished 1⅛ to 1⅝c off. July, 77½c; September, 74⅝@¾c; December, 68¾c.

Oats unchanged to ⅛s down.

Provisions varying from 17c decline to a rise of 2c.

With Liverpool quotations relatively firm, wheat prices at Chicago averaged higher early today. Foreigners were reported as being buyers here and fresh advices concerning the domestic spring wheat crop were less favorable especially as to premature ripening. Black rust reports said the past has spread to the stems of wheat near Fargo, N. D. Opening unchanged to ¾c higher, Chicago wheat afterward held near to the initial figures. Corn, oats and provisions were easier, with corn starting ⅛c off to ⅞c up, and subsequently declining sharply.

Despite early advances today, wheat later fell down to new low-price records for the season. In doing so, the market swung within a comparatively narrow range of but little more than 1c a bushel, but the drop was sufficient to outdo the season's previous bottom figures and those for 17 years back as well. Increased selling which accompanied the drop was on connection with forecasts of cooler weather, indicating at least some relief from recent prolonger excessive high temperatures damaging to crops.

Prospects of an increase Monday in the already big domestic supply acted as a further stimulus to believers in lower prices for wheat. On the other hand, some leading houses were pointing out today that with Liverpool prices down close to the dollar level, representing a price in this country and Canada fully 20c lower, purchase eppeared advisable. It was also contended that stocks of wh at abroad are low, and will have to be replenished.

The official weather forecast indicated that the warm wave will be broken in north central states within the next 36 hours, and that at least local showers or thunderstorms would occur. Corn receipts at primary centers this week were reported as 3,377,000 bushels, against 4,325,000 bushels a year ago.

Oats showed little change with trade only moderately active.

For the most part, the provision market was steady, helped by upturns in hog values.

Corn prices went lower today largely as a result of selling on account of rains in parts of Iowa and Nebraska and predictions of more favorable weather over other parts of the corn belt. Arrivals of corn in Chicago today totaled 101 cars, against 162 cars at this time last year.

NEW YORK STOCK MARKET.

By International News Service.

NEW YORK, July 12.

Aggressive operations for a rise centered in such speculative leaders as Radio, U. S. Steel, American Can, and Westinghouse, brought a decidedly bullish tinge to today's session, and resulted in a broad set of advances in other sections of the list.

A more optimistic tone was conveyed to the day's activity, as bearish professionals found difficulty in pressing their closing advantage of yesterday in the first half of the session. This resulted in a resumption of pool demonstrations in a number of pivotal leaders, and forced urgent covering in other stocks, particularly utilities.

U. S. Steel forged upward to 160¾ shortly before the close for an advance of close to 3 points. Radio bounded up in spectacular fashion to 39½ for a gain of similar proportions while large blocks of Can, General Electric, Westinghouse and Vanadium were bought on a rising scale.

Utilities were up sharply with suche recently depressed favorites as Electric Power & Light, National Power & Light, Consolidated Gas, and United Corporation leading the way.

Oil shares made their most notable advance in weeks with Standard of New Jersey, Standard of California, Houston, Atlantic Refining, and Texas Corporation sharing equally well.

Food shares ruled buoyant with Hershey scoring a brilliant advance to 98 for a 5-point gain. Motors and coppers showed moderate improvement. Rails reflected continued investment demand.

The market showed no hesitancy in the final few minutes and continued buying brought closing prices in most leaders to the best levels of the day. Preliminary Dow Jones averages showed a net advance of 3.87 points in 30 industrial stocks and .37 points in 20 rails.

U. S. Steel closed 3 points higher at 160¾; Radio up 3 at 39¾; American Can up 3 at 123; American Tel. & Tel. up 2 at 210; International Tel. & Tel. up 1⅛ at 45; General Electric up 2⅝ at 70⅛; Westinghouse up 4⅝ at 140¼; Union Carbide up 1½ at 70; General Motors up 1 at 42⅞; Montgomery Ward up 1 at 35½; Radio-Keith up 1½ at 30⅝; Loews up 3⅛ at 69; Standard Oil of New Jersey up 2¼ at 70⅞; New York Central up 3¼ at 164⅞, American & Foreign Power up 2 at 65⅞; Consolidated Gas up 2⅛ at 109½; United Corporation up 1⅛ at 32⅝ Public Service of New Jersey up 2½ at 97; Electric Power & Light up 2⅝ at 69⅞; Hershey up 5¼ at 98½; Case Threshing up 7⅛ at 179⅝; Air Reduction up 4½ at 113¾.

Strength in the food stocks and a number of speculative favorites featured a generally firm week-end session today. Dealings were extremely quiet with the absence of selling pressure influencing a resumption of constructive operations in a broad list of stocks. There were but 110,800 shares turned over in the first half hour of activity, indicating under a half million shares for the session.

Hershep Chocolate jumped almost 5 points to 98, while steady demand for Borden, Loose Wiles, National Dairy, National Biscuit, Corn Products, General Foods, and Gold Dust resulted in sharply higher quotations.

Radio Corporation came to the fore of the industrial list, as reports that its leading sponsor had returned from a vacation brought active buying. It advanced 1½ points to 38¼, the highest price on the current recovery. U. S. Steel jumped 1½ to 159¼; American Can up 1¾ at 121¾; General Electric up 1¼ at 69; and Westinghouse up 2- at 138.

Utilities took part in the improvement with National Power & Light moving up 1⅞ to 40⅞; Electric Power & Light up 1⅞ at 68⅞; Consolidated Gas up 1⅛ at 108⅞; and Standard Gas up 1⅝ at 92⅞.

Amusement shares ruled firm with Radio-Keith and Paramount edging fractionally higher.

Oils took a turn for the better as announcement of the settlement of the Pacific coast gas war, resulted in more confident ubying for the leaders in this group. Standard of California was up ½ point at 61⅞; Standard of New Jersey gained a point at 69⅝; and Houston moved up 1⅝ at 77⅝.

Rails were firm in dull turnover.

Coppers apparently had discounted the monthly statement of stored up metal which showed a further increase to a new high total. Anaconda, American Smelting and Kennecott benefitted from considerable short covering.

Irregular ruled initial sales on the market today, with generally narrow price changes predominating.

U. S. Steel was up ¾ at 158½; Westinghouse unchanged at 135⅝; American can off ⅝ at 119⅝; Radio off ⅛ at 36⅝; Dupont up ⅝ at 102, and vandium off ¼ at 81⅛.

Utilities ruled steady with Electric Power and Light up ¼ at 67½; Columbia Gas and Electric off ⅛ at 63¼; consolidated Gas up ½ at 107⅝; National Power and Light unchanged at 39⅞, and United Corporation up ¼ at 31⅝.

Oils were irregular with standard of New Jersey up ⅝ at 69¼; Standard of California up ½ rt 61⅞; Houston Oil off ⅝ at 75¼, and Texas Corp, off ⅛ at 51⅝.

Motors were slightly lower. Auburn dropped a point to 107½; Chrysler off ¼ at 27⅞; General Motors off ⅛ at 42⅝, and Packard off ⅛ at 13⅞.

Rails held fairly steady. Pennsylvania was unchanged at 75⅛; Atchison off ⅝ at 217½; Southern Railway off ¼ at 94⅝, and Allleghany off ¼ at 22.

American Tel. & Tel. was off ¾ at 207¼; Radio-Keith unchanged at 28⅞; American International up ⅛ at 33¾, and Gold Dust unchanged at 39.

BOND REVIEW.

By International News Service.

NEW YORK, July 12

Bond prices were generally irregular in extremely quiet dealings in today's abbreviated session.

Better grade issues continued to dis- wppppus. ...; bgkq shrdlu etaonnnni play a firm undertone, although changes were mainly nominal.

Government obligations were dull with liberty first 4¼'s casing off a fraction to 102.5, while the 4th 4¼'s were up nominally to 103.

Foreign securities were steady with the German Reparation issue just shading its previous clos eat 88⅞. Strength was also evidenced in South American bonds, with the Bolivia 7's of 58 up ½ point at 75.

Rail obligations ruled irregular, with Atchison convertible 4½'s up ⅝ at 129¾; while the St. Paul Gold 5's dropped off almost a point to 56⅝.

NEW YORK CURB OPENING.

By International News Service.

NEW YORK, July 12

The curb market moved ahead impressively in the coising hour of activity today, and advances were the rule in the run of trading leaders, although isoalted instances of irregularity tended to offset the general buoyant tone, at the finish.

Electric Bond & Share closed up at 80⅛; American Gas & Electric off ⅛ at 113¾; American & Foreign Power warrants up ¾ at 43; American Superpower up ¼ at 23⅛; Associated Gas & Electric A up ⅝ at 34⅛; Brazilian Traction up ⅝ at 39⅝; Middle West Utilities up ⅝ at 28⅞; Niagara Hudson Power up ⅛ at 16; United Gas (new), up ¾ at 14⅝; United Light & Power up ⅝ at 39.

Cities Service firmed up to 27, for a gain of ⅛.

Oils were buoyant with Cosden up 2⅝ at 40⅛; Gulf up 1⅝ at 126½; Humble up 2⅜ at 91¼; Standard Oil of Indiana up ⅛ at 50⅞; Vacuum up 2⅝ at 89⅝.

Trans-America was an outstanding weak spot, breaking to 20⅞ from which it later recovered to finish off 4 points lower at 21⅞. Goldman Sachs was off ⅝ at 20⅞.

Features in the industrial group included Driver Harriss up 4⅝ at 64⅞; Mapes Consolidated Manufacturing up 2⅞ at 44; Aviation Corporation of America up 2¼ at 46.

Generally lower prices were quoted at the opening of the curb market today. Trans-America broke to a ne wlow at 23⅞, for a loss of 2½ points on a turnover of 7,000 shares. Electric Bond & Share was off ¼ at 78. Cities Service off ¼ at 26⅞. Niagara Hudson Power unchanged at 16⅞. Associated Gas & Electric A unchanged at 33⅞. Goldman Sachs off ⅛ at 21⅞. United Light & Power A off ⅛ at 38⅞. American Superpower off ⅛ at 22⅞. Shenandoah unchanged at 9⅝. Standard Oil of Indiana unchanged at 50¼. Vacuum Oil up 1⅛ at 87⅞, and United Gas new up ¼ at 14⅞.

New York Cotton.

By International News Service.

The New York cotton market displayed a slightly easier tone at first call today when future contracts were up 4 to off 8 points. Trade and commission houses bought while New Orleans, foreign interests and professional traders sold. Late forenoon prices, however, firmed up, giving the market a bullish aspect when July sold at 12.97, up 7; October new 12.72, up 6; January new, 12.98, up 4; and March 13.16, up 1. Rains were reported in some sections where they were needed. However, reports fro mthe belt sections where they were needed however are not optimistic.

Hoover Vacation Plans Indefinite

WASHINGTON, July 12 — (AP) — President Hoover was said again at the white house today to be deferring until the senate adjourns a decision on the middle and far west trip which he wishes to take.

No plans have been made.

In the event of materialization of his hopes, however, work was begun on a tentative itinerary.

JONES SETS NEW COURSE RECORD AT INTERLACHEN

couldn't cast off the spell that Jones's magic previously had woven into the consciousness of a great gallery of 5,000. It had its compensations, in fact. It proved to the onlookers that Jones was subject to error, after most of them had begun to suspect that he wasn't human.

To Bid for Record.

With only 18 holes to go, his epic round left him the prospect of needing no more than a 74 this afternoon to tie Chick Evans 'all-time by Minikahda course in 1916. Jones' American record of 286 at the nearby Minikahda course in 1916.

Jones' card:

Out .....4 4 3 4 3 3 3 4 5—33

In ....4 4 4 3 4 4 3 4 5—35—68—212

Horton Smith, the sole surviving hope of professional golf in this championship, continued his sequence of 4's to the ninth hole and was a par 36 at the turn.

Harry Cooper, who started the round in a tie with Jones also was 36 to the turn and needed a sub-par golf from this point to stay in the fight. Armour, out in 35, was a stroke over par for the first six, coming back, and therefore, was not to be taken seriously. Neither was Mac Donald Smith, who shot 37 for the first nine and had a 6 at the twelfth.

Smith Sets Sail.

Horton Smith started with six successive 4s to be a stroke over par going to the seventh. He was recovering well, a fact that he proceeded to prove immediately by getting a par at the first hole after being in the rough with his drive and in a trap with his second. A great chip shot to the pin was the answer.

Smith lost a stroke to par at the short third, where he failed to get home from the tee and subsequently left himself a 7-footer for a par, which he missed. Then he lashed out two great woods to get himself home at the 506-yard fourth and score a birdie but again he missed the green at a short hole, the fitfth, and took a 4. He was short with both drive and approach at the sixth but still had a 15-footer for a birdie, which he missed.

Steadies at Seventh.

Horton Smith steadied considerably after the sixth and his 4s to the turn represented straight routine golf, except for his birdie at the ninth. Here a wood and an iron carried the lake and left him a chip shot from the edge of a trap. It fell dead in characteristic Smith control and he got a helpful 4.

Then he started back with a buzzard 5 and his cause looked hopeless. His tee shot found one trap and his out found another in back of the green. He had a bad lie at the back of the bunker and had to explode it to the green. He finally two-putted from 25 feet for a 5.

Smith found trouble again on the dog-leg eleventh around the lake. His drive soared 225 yards, off to the right. A spono second, aimed at the green, sliced to the right again and 50 yards short of the green. A crisp niblick put his 15 feet from the cup, but he missed his putt and went down for a par 5.

Three 5s In Row

Smith tok his third consecutive five on the 530 yard twelfth. With the wind at his back, he pounded a long tee shot straight down the fairway. The length of. his drive and the direction of the wind led him to attempt a long carry over the traps guarding the green with his second. He failed, the shot striking in at the top and trickling back into the heavy grass on the edge. He chipped out eight feet from the cup, missed his putt, and was down in five.

A pitch to the green gave him a par three on the thirteenth.

Smith Bangs Drive.

Smith banged out a 300 yard drive on the wicked par 4 fourteenth. He laid his mashie second twelve feet from the pin and went down in two for a par 4. He lost another stroke to par, and became two over, on the fifteenth. His drive faded into the edge of the rough 270 yards out. His niblick out left him a downhill approach. His chip was five feet short and he missed the putt.

On the sixteenth, he spooned his drive around the trees to the left and 270 yards out. A niblick left him six feet from the pin. His putt pounded the back of the cup too sharply and he went down in four. His putting has bee nerratic.

The seventeenth, tricky little 250 yard par three, spelled disaster to the blond youngster from Missouri. He sliced his tee shot into deep rough below the green and was pitched out to the fairway. His third was on and he took two putts for a five.

Putt Won't Go Down.

The eighteenth he played in par, driving 260 yards and pitching to the green short of the cup. His putt rolled to the edge, but wouldn't down and he took a four.

Tommy Armour, the black scot, who has been up with the leaders for the first two days, after starting with a 70, faded from the picture on his first round today. A 40 coming in gave him a 75. That left him nine strokes behind Jones, with only the final round left.

Lacey Out of Running.

Lacey, the young English pro, who flashed into a tie with Bobby Friday, drooped along with Armour. The first nine today which he turned in 42 spelled disaster for him, and even a smart 35 coming home left him with a 75, seven strokes in the rear.

Johnny Farrell clicked off a 73, one over par, and found himself seven strokes away from Jones' burning rush.

Morte Dutra, the swart Californian, turned in the second best card of the day, one stroke over Jones' record-breaking 68. But his earlier scores of 75-78 left him still eight strokes away. Dutra picked off four birdies and slipped over par on the first and thirteenth.

Cooper Five Behind.

Harry Cooper came in with a 73 to finish the third round with a 217, five strokes away from the leader. Buzzards on the long twelfth and short thirteenth spoiled his score.

Old Mack Smith slipped Saturday, taking a stroke over par on each nine to come in with a 74. He started with a pair of fives and took a six on the twelfth. His round left him with 219.

John Golden, his partner, clicked around the course in 71 for a 218.

Walter Hagen's come-back began to fade sharply Friday when he took a 76 for a total of 223, just 11 strokes in rear of Jones.

Hagen found trouble on the ninth and took a six. He duplicated that feat on the twelfth and went one over on the fourteenth, where he was in worlds of trouble yesterday.

Lindy's Home Airport Is Dedicated by Byrd

Explorer Flies to St. Louis From Chicago to Be Acclaimed By Missouri City.

ST. LOUIS, July 12—(AP)— Rear Admiral Richard E. Byrd, who has flown across both poles, flew into heat-parched St. Louis today to dedicate Col. Charles A. Lindbergh's home airport, Lambert-St. Louis field, and to be acclaimed by the city.

Accompanied by several members of his Antarctic expedition, the famous explorer flew from Chicago and was escorted to Lambert field by a convoy of twenty-five planes, including army craft from Scott field, Illinois. He unveiled a dedicatory tablet in ceremonies participated in by Maj. Gen. James E. Fechet, chief of the army corps, and city officiols.

THE WEATHER.

The northern disturbance has increased in intensity and is central over Minnesota. Other disturbances are central over southern Arizona and off the north Atlantic coast. Pressure is high over the northern Mountain region and is relatively high over the lower Lake region and the west Gulf coast. Scattered showers or thunderstorms occurred within the last 24 hours over the northern Mountain region and eastward to the Mississippi Valley, and along the Atlantic coast. Temperatures continue about normal over the central portion of the country but have fallen over the northern and central Mountain region and the northern Great Plains.

KANSAN SAVED FROM BIG LOSS

Retired Grocer Had $20,000 To Deliver On Stock Deal.

OMAHA, July 12—(AP)—R. A. Robinson retired grocer of Ottawa, Kas., believes in the honesty of his fellow man.

But Omaha police did not share his belief in the supposed honesty of a pair of strangers to whom Robinson intended to deliver $20,000 here today and, as a result, refused to allow him to deliver the money.

Several detectives met Mr. Robinson as he alighted from a train here with his small fortune in the form of a draft in an inside coat pocket, and deprived him of it temporarily. The detectives had been advised that a couple of fake stock salesmen were awaiting the elderly Kansan here to mulct him of his $20,000.

Robinson became angry when police took the draft from him to prevent its delivery to the strangers. They say that he was, without doubt, about to be victimized, but Robinson disagreed with them, stating that he would have doubled his money in a day had police permitted him to work with his "friends" on a stock deal.

Awarded Big Verdict For Nebraska Accident

Man Who Claimed Spine Was Fractured While Riding In Bus Near Auburn Gets $100,000.

CHICAGO, July 12—(AP)— John M. Princell, 46, of Chicago, was awarded $100,000 damages Friday by Superior court jury in his suit against the Pickwick-Greyhound Motor Bus company for a fracture of the spine, which he claimed resulted when a bus in which he was riding between Omaha and Kansas City, hit a rut and he was thrown from his seat.

Court attaches said the verdict was the largest ever awarded in an Illinois court for a personal injury claim.

The accident was on a hillside near Auburn, Neb., Princell told the jury. He was taken to a Kansas City hospital, then brought to Chicago. Clifford Leabo of Kansas City was the bus driver.

OMAHA PLANNING TRUCK TERMINAL

OMAHA, July 12—(AP)—Plans for a $50,000 trucking terminal to be located in the Omaha wholesaling district were discussed at a meeting between a committee of the Omaha Manufacturers' association and the Nebraska Truckers association. It was decided to put the question to a vote of the Nebraska truckers group, the Southwest Iowa association and to Omaha manufacturers and jobbers.

PLAYMATES OF 30 YEARS AGO HOLD REUNION HERE

Three former playmates, separated when they were six years old, are enjoying an informal reunion at the home of Mrs. Robert Gustafson, 2410 C street. Three girls, all with the given name Ruth, played together in Ashland thirty years ago. They separated, but kept track of each other by correspondence, with two of them, but never all three meeting occasionally. Thursday, Mrs. Ruth Hales, Sacramento, Cal., and Mrs. Ruth Weyenberg, Norfolk, arrived at Mrs. Gustafson's home where they will visit until Sunday or Monday.

City of St. Louis Has Population of 818,252

ST. LOUIS, July 12—(AP)—The 1930 population of the St. Louis official metropolitan zone was announced today as 1,289,341, an increase of 20.3 per cent over the 1920 figures of 1,071,410. The zone comprises St. Louis City, most of St. Louis county, St. Charles, Mo., and large portions of St. Clair and Madison counties, Illinois.

The city proper, with a population of 818,252, gained only 5.8 per cent, while the largest increase was in St. Louis county which more than doubled, with 211,444 now as compared with 100,737 in 1920. A movement is under way for merger of the city and county.

KANSAS YOUTH IS DROWNED IN POND NEAR BELLEVILLE

(Special to The Star.)

BELLEVILLE, Kas., July 12—Victor Kolbaba, 21, Cuba high school athlete, holding the Republic county broad jump championship, was drowned Thursday night in the pond on the Will Richardson farm north of Belleville, where he and a number of companions were swimming. Four doctors were rushed to the scene in an effort to resuscitate him, but to no avail. Kolbaba had been working as a farm hand for Adalph Pachta, north of Belleville. He was a son of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Kolbaba.

COHEN WITHDRAWS PRIMARY FILING

Leaves Clarence Miles Uncontested In Democratic Race For County Attorney.

Withdrawal of Jack W. Cohen as a candidate for the democratic nomination for county attorney was made Saturday morning in the county clerk's office.

Cohen's withdrawal leaves Clarence Miles a clear field to the democratic nomination. Cohen filed early in the afternoon of the last day for filings, July 3. Less than an hour later, a petition asking nomination of Miles was placed on file.

Miles announced his acceptance early this week. County Attorney Max G. Towle is unopposed for renomination on the republican ticket.

STEAL CHICKENS VALUED AT $190

Over 250 chickens, valued at nearly $190 were stolen from the home of Philip Demma, 2323 South Fortieth street, Friday night, he told police Saturday.

Iowa Death Toll From Heat Is 29

DES MOINES, Ia., July 12—(AP)—With a four-day death toll from heat of twenty-nine persons and hundreds of head of livestock, Iowa today looked forward to thunder showers which promised relief from more than a week of unbroken high temperatures.

Cooler weather was forecast for tonight and Sunday by the government weather bureau which this week has recorded the longest period of unbroken high temperatures in the last decade. Only six official reporting stations reported maximum readings of less than 100 Friday with 92 at Dubuque and 93 at Decorah, the lowest of the highs.

LARGE DECREASE IN TAX VALUES

Drop of $33,971,328 In Returns From 53 Counties.

Fifty-three of the 93 counties of Nebraska have now made their complete assessment returns for 1930 to State Tax Commssioner Scott, and their combined showing is a decrease of $33,971,328 in the gross valuation of tangble property from what the same counties had in 1929.

In a list of 44 previously made up the new loss was $27,453,765. Of the other nine since heard from, four had gains aggregating $1,756,920 while the other five reported losses in the total amount of $8,274,483.

These nine counties from which the returns came in last registered a falling off of $2,992,259 in class A intangibles—money and bills of exchange. Two of them gained $56,988 in class B intangibles—notes, judgments, stocks, bonds, etc.—but the other seven dropped off $1,354,490.

The decrease in intangibles for all of the 53 counties now in is $21,488,218 on class A and $5,584,-763 on class B.

Herewith are the recent county figures not previously published:

Assolant and American Wife Granted a Divorce

PARIS, July 12—(AP)—Jean Assolant, trans-Atlantic flier, and Pauline Parker, whom he married at Old Orchard, Me., on the eve of his flight to Europe, today were granted a divorce.

Blame was attached to both, the court ruling that the aviator abandoned his wife, while she wrote letters to him of a disrespectful nature. The temporary alimony was discontinued.

Only eight places remained open Saturday morning for the fourth period camp which will open Tuesday. Wallace Eagleshield, Sioux Indian of Santee, Neb., will be in camp during the fourth and fifth periods. Louis Haviland, commercial air pilot of St. Louis, also will be present. Both men are from the state Y. M. C. A. camp, Camp Sheldon at Columbus.

Capitol Workman Hurt Two Years Ago Asks Compensation

Claiming that his employer at the state capitol had told him he didn't need to worry after he had slipped and caught hold of a live electric wire more than two years ago, Joseph Szakacz filed a petition in District court Saturday asking the state compensation commissioner to be required to enter an award covering his disability and medical expense.

Szakacz claims he was injured June 19, 1928 while installing iron work in the capitol building. He alleges that he slipped on a wet floor and that current from a live wire ran through his body for five minutes before he was rescued.

Szakacz says he relied upon statements of his employer, Harry W. Hedges, against whom the suit is brought. As a result, he says he did not demand compensation payment. His injuries have been progressive, he charges. He claims he is about to lose the sight of his left eye, that his hearing has been impaired, and that he suffers from severe leg pains.

Atlanta Wizard Shoots Spectacular Round at Interlachen

Jones Cracks Par With 68 for Morning Round in Final Day of Open

INTERLACHEN CLUB, Minneapolis, July 12—(AP)—Bobby Jones, the champion, shot a spectacular 68, four under par, and a new competitive record for the course, to take the lead in the third round of the United States open golf tournament today. It gave him a 54-hole total of 212.

Jones took the lead away from Horton Smith, his young professional rival, on the outgoing nine, which Bobby covered in 33 to Horton's 36.

The champion shot six birdies as he putted sensationally and was six under par going to the 17th. The loss of one stroke to par on each of the last two holes cost Bobby a chance for a 66.

Out With a 33.

INTERLACHEN CLUB, MINNEAPOLIS, July 12—(AP)—Bobby Jones shot a spectacular 33, three under par, today, for the first nine holes of his third round. Following his previous 36 hole total of 144, this gave him a 45-hole figure of 177 and leadership at that stage of the battle for the United States open golf championship.

Tommy Armour, the "black Scot," was four strokes behind Jones at the turn of the third round, with 181 for 45 holes.

Jones, on nine holes, had gained exactly nine strokes on Charles Lacey of Philadelphia, who was tied with the champion at the end of the second round. Lacey elminated himself with an outgoing 42.

At the 45-hole mark, Bobby also was six strokes in front of Johnny Farrell of New York, who made the turn in 37.

Charles Lacey, first of the leading group to finish, completed his rally with a 35 on the inward nine to help offset his disastrous start. He had 77 and a total of 221 for 54 holes.

Mac Smith made the turn in 37 and was five strokes behind Jones.

Lacey, playing the last nine in one under par, 35, did well to get in with a 7 7under the circumstances of his wierd start.

Johnny Goodman turned in par 72 for his morning round, getting three birdies on the outward trip and two coming in. His card:

Out, ...5 4 3 4 5 4 3 4 4—36
in ....4 5 5 2 5 4 3 3 5—36—72

Jones Starts Late.

Bobby Jones again was delayed in starting, driving off at 9:30 with a new playing partner, Joe Turnesa of New York, who was runner-up to the champion in 1926 at Columbus.

Bobby had to one-putt the first green to get his par 4. He spanked his drive 250 yards down the middle, but his second was short. He pitched eight feet from the cup and sank it.

"Calamity Jane" failed in the pinch on the 370-yard second and Bobby had to take a par 4. His drive hooked to the rough, he pitched out prettily, eight feet from the pin, and his putt stuck on the lip.

The 180-yard third was just another hole to Bobby. He was on in one and took two putts from 20 feet for his third straight par.

Putter Works Smoothly.

Bobby's constant flirtation with birdies finally succeeded on the 506-yard fourth. His approach was short but he pitched his third 12 feet from the cup and "Calamity Jane" came through. The ball skimmed into the cup without hesitation. The "bird" put Bobby one under par.

The champion was having trouble with his approaches but his putting was "hot." On the 178-yard fifth he was just off the carpet and his approach bounded 12 feet past the pin. He saved with one putt for a par 3. It was his third one-putt green of the round. He bagged his second birdie 3 on the 343-yard xth and went two under par. A spectacular pitch, feet from the cup and he dropped travelling 90 yards, stopped two it for a 3.

Bobby's drive to the seventh found the left rough but he slapped his second 80-yards to within eight feet of the cup and down went the putt. Bobby, now 3 big strokes under par, was playing every shot beautifully. the greens, dampened by rain, were more to his liking.

Putt Stops at Cup.

Bobby's 20-foot putt for a birdie 3 on the 397 yard eighth hung on the lip and he had to take a "terrible" par 4. He was on in two nice shots. It was the first green in 5 that his putter failed to sink the first stroke.

Bobby fired his second into a trap, to the left of the green, on the ninth hole. He played out short and went wide on a 12-foot putt, holing out in par 5.

Par, out ....4 4 3 5 3 4 4 4 5—36
Jones, out ....4 4 3 4 3 3 3 4 5—33

Bobby started his journey back with a regulation 4 on the 344-yard 10th. He was on in two and down in two putts from 20 feet.

Wind Fails To Bother.

Even a driving front wind failed to stop Bobby on the 484 yard 11th, and he clicked off another birdie 4. He was shot with his brassie around, pitched up six feet from the pin, and sank his putt. The "bird" put him 4 up on par and it marked his sixth one-putt green.

The champion got a par 4 on the 444 yard 14th, although his putt for a birdie rolled one foot too far. He was on in two. Bobby also got his par four on the 15th where he took six yesterday.

On the 408-yard 15th Bobby split the fairway 260 yards, plunked his iron second 15 feet from the cup, and took two putts. His first putt was 6 inches short.

Bobby's chip shot of 80 yards at the 16th almost gave him an eagle 2. He arched it prettily and the ball landed two inches from the cup, hesitated and stopped. It was an easy birdie 3, and it gave him a sensational score of 6 under par.

Old man par gave the great Bobby his first kick of the day on the 262 yard seventeenth, a hard par 3 hole. Bobby pulled his drive to the rough on the side of the trap, pitched his second 20 feet short of the pin, and took two putts. The slip cut his margin to five under par.

Buzzard on Eighteenth.

Burdened with the realization of his sensational score and the surging, tugging gallery of 8,000 spectators, the great wizard cracked on the eighteenth hole, and finished with a five for the par 4 stretch. His drive hooked to a bad rough 250 yards off the tee and he was stymied by a spreading tree. He played boldly but the ball clipped the top of the tree and barely landed on the fairway 20 yards out. His third was too strong and he landed on the back shoulder of the green, 12 feet off the green. His chip was two feet short. His Putt was easy. The last two holes cut his margin on par to one.

CITY VETERANS PLAY FOR TITLE

Archard and Kruse Lose Semi-Final Matches In City Meet.

BY GREGG McBRIDE.

Joe Stanton and Paul Mahood, among the fixtures in capital city racquet circles for almost a decade, were scheduled to step on the courts Saturday afternoon to decide the 1930 Lincoln city tennis championship.

Stanton and Mahood passed through the semi-final round late Friday afternoon. Stanton eliminated Fred Archard, a former city titleholder, in a gruelling five-set match, 7-5, 6-4, 1-6, 2-6, 6-3. Mahood defeated Wilfred Kruse in a four-setter, 6-2, 7-5, 1-6, 6-0.

Pair Met in 1926.

Appearance of Mahood and Stanton in the city finale recalls the 1926 tournament which was decided on the University of Nebraska courts. Mahood was a straight-set winner in the '26 match, 6-3, 7-5, 6-2.

The Saturday finals was the fifth city championship singles match in which Mahood has played, the University Place racqueteer having won the title in 1924, 1926, 1927 and 1928. He also captured state titles in 1924, 1925 and 1928.

Stanton Defeats Archard.

Joe Stanton played one of the best games of his long career Friday in taking a five-set match from Fred Archard, the Dawson schoolmaster. The gray-haired veteran devoted his entire attention to a back court game and his baseline drives were bombarding the chalk mark with the regularity of machine-gun fire.

Stanton won the stubbornly contested first set, 7-5, and overcame a one-game margin in the second set to win 6-4. In the third set, Archard cut loose with some brilliant overhead play at the net and swept through to a 6-1 victory.

Archard Squares Match.

After a short rest, play was resumed the fourth set going to Archard at 6-2. Stanton made a bid for victory in the early moments of the set, but decided to conserve his energy for the finals when Archard rolled up a 4-2 game advantage.

In the fifth set Stanton led off with the first game and was never headed although Archard brought the game-call to one-each, two-all and three-all. At this point in the match, Archard was guilty of some serious errors. He appeared to be hurrying his play which brought a number of costly nets and outs.

In the final game Stanton had three match-points before he finally put over the shot which won the match.

Mahood Trims Kruse.

Wilfred Kruse played mostly a defensive game against Paul Mahood, and the latter refused to crack, winning after four sets. Superior net play and stronger service were determining factors in the final decision.

The pair made a long drawnout affair of the first game of the match, Kruse finally taking it after the game had gone to deuce four times. Mahood then picked up three in a row, dropped the fourth and proceded to sweep through three long games to capture the first set, 6-2.

Kruse Muffs Chance.

Kruse again took the opening game in the second set, Mahood staging a comeback to bag the next three games with the loss of only three points.

At this turn of the match, Mahood appeared to ease up and his shots start straying from the court, Kruse winning two games and finally getting a 5-4 game advantage. Mahood put up a back-to-the wall fight at this stage of the match. Kruse had advantage game and forty-love, but the former champ drove in over three set points to deuce the game and finally overcame another set point before taking the game to square the set. Mahood took the next game after twelve points had been played and ran through the next with the loss of only one point, taking the set 7-5.

After dropping the first two sets, Kruse started putting more spin and speed to his attack and picked up the third set, 6-1, losing only the third game.

Mahood Wins Easily.

After the intermission, Mahood raced through the four set, 6-0, winning the match. In this set, Mahood varied his baseline play with frequent trips to the net, losing only 11 points in the final set.

The city doubles tourney got under way Friday with Charley Keller and Irving Kuklin trimming Robert Mario and H. Fleming, 6-1, 6-3, in a first round match.

Good Golf.

BY CHESTER HORTON. "Golf's Greatest Teacher."

In the study of left wrist action which we have just had it perhaps has bee nmade clear, as I have hoped to make it, that the left wrist is a most pronounced controlling factor in the golf swing as a whole, and, being such, it naturally is a possible source of much trouble. I have suggested "cocking" the left wrist in the address, and keeping it there, not alone as a better means of handling this wrist, but partly on the theory that it is always desirable to simplify anything having to do with your swing when you can. Thus when you fix a wrist position you need have no more concern about it, since its action can be made automatic, and I submit that this is better practice than the almost impossible task of "throwing in" your wrists here or there in your swing. There really is no such thing as "throwing in" your wrists. You wil find they throw themselves in—the swinging clubhead takes care of that—when you swing correctly. Also, accomplished this correct way, your swing attains more rhythm and smoothness, always to be desired. Any effort to "throw the wrists in" is almost certain to cause pressing.

LINKS CAPTURE SERIES AT YORK

Three Runs In Ninth Give Nunamakers 5-4 Victory.

Lincoln's Links won the third and last game of a series with York Friday by scoring three runs in the ninth inning to take a 5-4 lead. Eash drew a walk to the initial sack, and Irvin reached the same bag on White's misplay, Eash going to second. Langkop, York twirler proceeded to hit Hauser with a pitched ball and Davison followed up with a single which scored Eash and Irvin. Hauser scored a moment later when Ehlers, who had replaced Langkop, uncorked a wild pitch. The victory put the Links in a deadlock with McCook for third place, behind the Elks and Platters.

Grand Island played bang-up ball behind Johnny Long, ace pitcher, and the Generals of McCook, champions the first season, dropped the decision, 11-3. Long held the Generals, who had collected 41 hits in the two previous games, to only six bingles, and struck out eight. Louis Ginter, recruit hurler, started for the Westerners, but was replaced by Cameron at the start of the eighth canto.

Jeffs Drop Another.

The Jeffersons of Fairbury, a potent factor in the first race, dropped the third game of the series to Norfolk, 3-1, giving the Elks a clean sweep of the meeting. Red Davis, on the mound for Norfolk, limited the Jeffs to three hits, while his mates pounded Pattison and Sanfilippo for nine.

North Platte cleaned up the opening series of the second half with Norton, winning the third straight, 11-0, to remain in a tie for leadership. Pitcher Winstead allowed only five bingles to the Kansans, and set eight Norton performers back on strikes. Suggs, Norton's pitcher, whiffed 10 Buffs, but six Norton errors removed all doubt as to the ultimate victor. The Platters were the only team in the Carter circuit to field without a bobble Friday.

Lincoln's Links, resting on a higher pinnacle than they have been perched upon for some weeks, return home Saturday night to open a four-game series with the Jeffs. A doubleheader between the same two teams is in store for Sunday, and the series will end with Monday's game.

BARNES DEFEATS BROWN.

DES MOINES, Ia., July 12—(AP)—Two of America's most promising tennis performers, Bruce Barnes, the Austin, Tex., comet of the court, and Harris Coggeshall, Iowas foremost strokemaker, were paired today in the finals of the men's singles in the Missouri Valley tournament.

Barnes went into the finals yesterday by beating the defending champion, Wray Brown in five sets, 4-6, 6-4, 6-6, 2-5, 6-2. Coggeshall overpowered an arch-rival, Junior Bochmer, St. Louis, to win his way into the championship match. The scores were 6-1, 6-2, 6-3.

In a decided upset in the junior singles, Jack Lynch, 15 year old Taft, Calif., school boy, surprised William Flynn, Kansas City, seeded No. 1, to win 7-5, 6-2. Another favorite, Jay Cohn, Santa Monica, Cal., national boys champion, had a hard struggle to defeat Hal Surface, Kansas City, 6-1, 5-7, 7-5.

Coggeshall and Junior Coen, Kansas City were matched against Brown and Ted Bowman, St. Louis, in the finals of the men's doubles.

Ruth Bailey, St. Louis and Mae Courtwright, Wichita, Kas., were foes in the finals of the women's singles.

EASTERN JAUNT HITS CUBS HARD

Chicago Bruins Suffer Severe Setback On Recent Trip.

The somewhat incomplete intrasectional play of the major league clubs, which came to a close with yesterday's beginning of a new east-west movement, brought few surprising results in its general emphasis of the fact that a good ball club is successful no matter where the games are played.

The unexpected downfall of the Chicago Cubs and the rise of the Detroit Tigers were the only results which were unforeseen. The Cubs lost a whole four-game series at Cincinnati and wound up near the bottom of the National league list with two victories and five defeats. The Tigers, smashing out a final victory yesterday, took four of five from the Cleveland Indians after gaining a 3-2 edge over Chicago for a total of seven victories in ten games.

Detroit showed a lot of power in yesterday's game, slamming out 18 hits for an 11 to 1 triupmh over the Indians. Waite Hoyt allowed only seven hits while the Tigers made eight and six of their runs off Clint Brown in the first two innings. This victory put the Tigers ahead of the champion Philadelphia Athletics, who won six and lost three in the intra-sectional series, and second only to the Washington Senators, who won seven out of eight from Boston and New York. The Yankees went through a serious slump, winning but two out of eight games.

Sox In Sixth Place.

The Chicago White Sox closed their nip and tuck series with the St. Louis Browns in the other American league game, gaining a 5 to 3 decision to take sixth place again by a half-game margin. Pat Caraway had only one bad inning, the Browns scoring all their runs in the third, and gave the Sox an even break in ten intrasectional games.

The suddenly triumphant Cincinnati Reds opened their tour of the eastern division of the National league yesterday as Pittsburgh and St. Louis ended the fraternal strife among the western clubs. The Reds, hitting effectively behind the pitching of Red Lucas, defeated the Phillies, 5 to 3. Lucas had the better of a duel with Earl Collard, giving but eight hits, and contributed the finishing touch to the victory in the form of a home run in the ninth inning.

Pirates Hammer Cards.

The Pirates slammed three Cardinal pitchers for 16 hits to win the series final, 6 to 2, and divide the six game set, but despite this result Pittsburgh was below the .500 mark in the intrasectional play and the cards were at the top. St Louis won six games and lost three, equalling the record of the New York Giants against the Phillies and Brooklyn. The Robins came in second with five victories and three defeats and due to Chicago's losses took a firm hold on first place.

Gallant Fox Topheavy Favorite to Capture Rich Arlington Purse

ARLINGTON PARK, Chicago, July 12—(AP)—America's richest three-year-old race purse—the $70,000 added Arlington classic—today furnished an apparently easy short cut to the champion three year old, Gallant Fox, in his drive for a record as the greatest money winning horse of all time.

Victory in today's mile and a quarter race, worth approximately $70,800 to the winner, would bring the winnings of the sensational son of Sir Galahad III-Marguerite to around the $300,000 mark and within striking distance of the earnings record of the great Zev. And victory today, even with some of the country's best three year olds opposing the Fox, seemed assured.

There were a few who thought Gallant Knight, second to the Fox in the Kentucky derby, might head off the champion in his try for a sixth major 1930 stake. Ned O, show horse in the Churchill Downs feature, received some consideration as did the three fillies, Snowflake, Alcibiades and Dustemall, but the general feeling was that Gallant Fox would have to break a leg to lose. Overnight odds were 2 to 5 but were expected to reach as low as 20 cents to a dollar.

Fox Heavy Winner.

Gallant Fox, by virtue of his victories in the Wood memorial, the Preakness, the Kentucky derby, the Belmont stakes and the Dwyer stakes, was eligible for a $10,000 bonus to be added to the $60,000 original purse and approximately $800 in entry fees. This put the earning possibilities for the Fox at approximately $6,500 a second for the duration of the race.

Owner William Woodward of New York has announced that Gallant Fox will run next week in the Arlington cup event which offers $30,000 added.

The combination of the rich stake and the opportunity of seeing the Fox and his veteran rider, Earl Sande, in action aroused the greatest interest in horse racing in Chicago since the sport was revived. At least 50,000 were expected at the Arlington course and preparations were made to handle 70,000.

Top weight of 126 pounds was assigned to Gallant Fox with the rest of the field of 11 carrying from 116 to 123 pounds. Gallant Knight was awarded 123 pounds.

Owner Woodward was modest in his comment on the Fox's chances, saying merely, "I hope he will run a good race."

Jockey Sande was more expressive. He grinned and asked "Who can beat us?"

The entries, weights, Jockeys and owners, follow:

Horse	Wgt.	Jockey	Owner
Flaming	119	No Boy,	Wheatley stable
Ned O	121	C. Quattlebaum,	G. M. Foreman
Alcibiades	116	J. Smith,	H. P. Headley

OMAHA, July 12—(AP)—Promoters of the Primo Carnera-Bearcat Wright bout scheduled here for July 17 announced today the huge Italian heavyweight hope would arrive in Omaha Sunday to begin training for the bout. Carnera, they said, would work out Sunday at the Omaha Western league ball park.

Walker Signs Box Maxie Rosenbloom

NEW YORK, July 12—(I. N. S.) Maxie Rosenbloom, world's light heavyweight champion, and Mickey Walker, wearer of the middleweight crown, will meet in the civic auditorium in Atlantic City on August 30, according to tentative arrangements announced today. Jack Kearns, manager of Walker, said actual signing of contracts was all that remained to make the announcement official.

Kearns said Walker would receive 60 per cent of the gate and Rosenbloom would be guaranteed $60,000.

The Atlantic City arena seats 50,000.

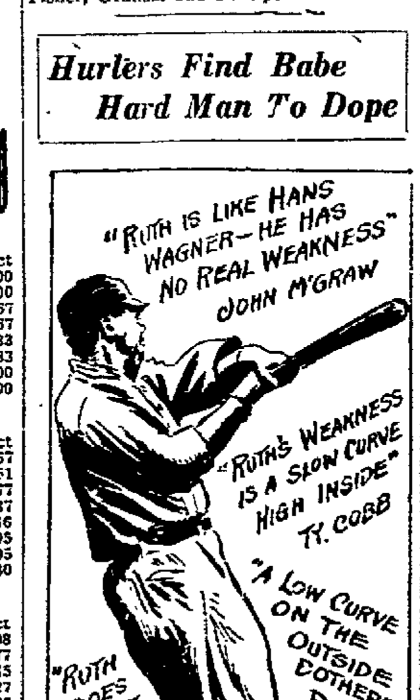
Hurlers Find Babe Hard Man To Dope



BY AL DEMAREE.

HOW to pitch to Babe Ruth has kept the pitchers in the American league awake at night for years.

To these pitchers the Bambino is a perpetual hazard. At times he may appear harmless, but they realize from past experience, the ever present dynamite in his menacing bludgeon.

I asked Babe what balls he hit the best. "Half the time I couldn't tell you whether it was a fast or curve ball that I hit," answered the big fellow. "Any time I see anything like a ball coming up to the plate that looks good, I take a clout at it!"

Waite Hoyt, former Yankee pitcher, told me one day that Babe can hit anything you throw up there when he's hitting, but when he's not hitting and in a slump he can't hit anything. He's either a superman or helpless.

And so the question goes merrily on. Some pitchers pitch low to him and some high. Some inside and some outside. I believe John McGraw is right when he says:

"Babe Ruth is like Hans Wagner used to be. He hasn't any real weakness. All you can do with him is mix 'em up and pray."

Goodman Mediocre In Friday Round

INTERLACHEN COUNTRY CLUB, Minneapolis, Minn., July 12—Johnny Goodman played mediocre golf in his Friday round of the national open and was forced to content himself with an 80, his 74 of Thursday, however, pulling him into the final day of play.

His play was almost the reverse of the first day. Johnny taking a 41 for the outside and a 39 for the inside.

In addition to having trouble with nearly all his clubs, Goodman became careless. On the eighth he took four to get on and ran his putt within four inches of the cup. He tapped the ball in a carefree backhand fashion to put the ball into the bucket. The ball went only two inches and he was charged with a seven. His card:

Out—
Goodman ....5 5 3 4 4 5 4 7 4—41
Par ....4 4 3 5 4 4 4 4 5—36
In —
Goodman ....4 7 4 4 4 4 4 4 4—39—80
Par ....4 5 5 3 4 4 4 3 4—36—72

Charley Koontz of the Lincoln Shrine club was chalked up as withdrawing. He took an 80 Thursday.
